Layout and design of The P.E.O. Record by Allison Vial
A young woman desperately fighting the issue of human trafficking, used the phrase “Neary Rattank,” which in Cambodian means “women are jewels.” Certainly, her view of women was visceral, defining one of humanity from her own life experiences.

I was touched by the brilliant simplicity of this statement in an application for the International Peace Scholarship. Yes, “women are jewels” and each P.E.O. is a precious gem in our Sisterhood.

There are many different kinds of gemstones—a myriad of colors, cuts, shapes, sizes—all of which could reflect the unique personality of a P.E.O. Rays of light passing through determine the color of the stone prized for its great beauty, rarity and aesthetics. As our own light shines, our sister’s luster becomes more distinct.

Gemstone pebbles are polished by tumbling rough rocks with abrasive grit in a rotating drum. For a new member it is important to realize the hidden potential, as a precious gemstone inside a rock. The more we nurture, the more valuable P.E.O. she will become. Ongoing mentoring to familiarize her with procedures, chapter traditions and expectations will help reach her greatest potential to become part of our P.E.O. collection of cherished, rare gems.

P.E.O. refines us as “gems in progress” because our P.E.O. “constant” is general improvement. Life can be difficult; it is always a test to see how well we react under pressure. It is under intense pressure that precious jewels and women of character are formed.

A diamond is a gemstone valued for its beauty and endurance representing potential candidates for our P.E.O. projects. We give these women opportunity, hope and support so as they emerge from their pressures, they have become beautiful, sparkling diamonds shining in their accomplishments.

Rarity is a characteristic that lends value and worth to a gemstone. Do you know a P.E.O. sister who represents the rarest of qualities—excellence, compassion, brilliance—the HOPE DIAMOND, giving hope to each recipient, sharing hope for a better world?

Gems have a luminescence or emission of light. By internalizing our virtues of faith, love, purity, justice and truth, we each radiate a spectacular spectrum of light into the world. The opportunity to improve ourselves, and all with whom we have contact, is the power of P.E.O.—the remarkable reflection of our precious gems.

Another physical characteristic of a colored stone is the asteria, or star effect. The Greeks greatly valued asteria in gemstones which were regarded as a powerful love charm. In P.E.O. our love radiates from our star and adorns each sister with inner and outer goodness. We delight the senses with our pursuit of excellence and harmony within our organization.

If we put these precious jewels into a setting, it becomes the local chapter. Each gemstone of varying color, cut and clarity is carefully placed to create a masterpiece. We are each unique and this creates the diversity that makes our chapters vital.

No piece of jewelry or setting is ever complete—there is always room for another stone of unusual quality. We must never see our chapter as perfect just the way it is, but must constantly strive to improve and polish what we do best AND we must always be open to new members. As we continue to show growth and our “gems” become too plentiful for the chapter “setting,” a new chapter is needed, allowing them to sparkle.

Have you ever had a piece of jewelry “lost” and found? Such a rediscovered gem could be that sister not able to participate. She should not be forgotten, but we must continue to keep her polished with our loving concern. This sister is most at-risk to choose inactive status and we must do everything in our power to prevent this. Each sister is valued for her contribution to this sisterhood.

P.E.O.’s gems and handlers of gemstones share important points:

• We know it takes time to recognize quality.
• We know there is potential in each rock.
• We bask in the glow of our perfect stone as our own light reveals yet another beautifully faceted gem.

Whether you are a diamond, emerald, ruby or sapphire – Let the light of our star shine through you. Your worth in P.E.O. is immeasurable because “women are, indeed, precious jewels!”

My precious sisters, I thank you for the opportunity to serve.

Sue

P.E.O. Provided Strength Through Adversity, Dark Days

Nearly 40 years ago I faced the darkest days of my life. I had no one to confide in and would lie awake at night fantasizing about what friend I could fly away to and escape. But that was not possible, in fact, it is never possible to escape oneself.

But my profound and steadfast reliance on God led me through this wilderness challenge. P.E.O also became my silent but powerful supporter and sustainer. My sisters have never known what I was facing. But I would literally hold my yearbook in my hands, and read each and every name in my chapter as they “quietly and silently” shared their words of wisdom, faith and encouragement. They were my guardian angels in the gloom.

I would go to meetings, KNOWING, that I would be greeted with a warm and friendly, “WELCOME!” They gave me the strength I needed to persevere by their own actions and the love they extended, simply by being my sisters.

Because I had held several chapter offices, and had memorized a number of initiation parts, I was able to draw on those powerful words and use them like prayers throughout the day. Our foundational principles of Faith, Love, Purity, Justice and Truth were touchstone qualities that kept me connected to our promises and vows during a time of adversity.

Although the trials and tribulations of that time have come and gone, the love of my P.E.O. sisters still remains!

With Great Gratitude,
Ann Little, VF, Atascadero, California

Courtesy Chair Extraordinaire

There are P.E.O. sisters who brighten the days of those in their presence and others who also bring you happiness from afar. Judy Frink of Chapter AX in Bismarck, North Dakota, does both. Judy has been our courtesy chairperson for the last 25 years. As chairperson, each year, Judy sent birthday cards with thoughtful notes to every sister in our chapter. If there was a death in the family or someone needed uplifting, Judy also sent cards. In the last few years, Judy’s courtesy reports also ended with a quote that made us ponder or laugh. The amazing part of all this is, Judy moved from Bismarck to Sun Lakes, Arizona, in 2013, but continued as Bismarck’s courtesy chair. After 25 years, Judy has decided to pass the baton onto a new chair in Bismarck. However, while Judy has decided to retain her Bismarck membership, she now serves as courtesy chair in Sun Lakes. Judy is a gem and we smile just thinking about all the happiness her kindness has given us.

The Kindness and Generosity of P.E.O.s

On April 1, 2019, I was hostess for Chapter EM at my home. It had been a cold and snowy Minnesota winter. That night, in front of all my P.E.O. sisters, the weight of the snow caused my greenhouse roof to cave in.

The following day I had a call from two wonderful Chapter EM sisters saying they were going to get my greenhouse roof fixed. A few weeks later, I had a beautiful new greenhouse roof. A huge thank you to my P.E.O. sisters and other generous folks for all their hard work and kindness.

The P.E.O. STAR Scholarship

RECOGNIZING YOUNG WOMEN OF STELLAR ACHIEVEMENT

P.E.O. had for decades quietly done the good work of P.E.O. Here lay the opportunity to bring P.E.O. to the forefront in communities by celebrating the brightest and the best within the ranks of high school senior young women from every type of community. As STAR has matured, more than $10 million has been awarded to exceptional young woman from diverse demographics. Scholarships have been awarded to 4,334 young women from every type of community imaginable. The philosophy from its inception has included great appreciation for all the recommended nominees. Awarded or not, chapters are encouraged to celebrate the recommended applicant as an outstanding citizen and scholar.

With flip charts and markers, the International Chapter Executive Board met in Santa Fe, New Mexico, for a three-day retreat to look at all that was learned from the Noel-Levitz survey. To meet the exciting challenge of a new scholarship, a special committee was appointed to investigate. The committee was given one charge: create a framework to recognize high school young women who were exceptional. The STARs would be the face of P.E.O. at their high school and in the community. Local chapters were to be actively involved.

"It was a heady time of opportunity to meet the needs expressed by our members. We hardly peeked out of the room we were all so engrossed in our thinking and talking. We’d heard from several that a scholarship for high school women was an opportunity for P.E.O. Out of that meeting came the nebulous idea for a scholarship. I am still amazed at how this all developed. Marilyn (Mancini) was the right person at the right time to lead this to success." - BARBARA ANDES, PAST PRESIDENT, INTERNATIONAL CHAPTER

The committee began their work immediately and began writing criteria, guidelines, application forms and then launched a pilot program to gauge the interest of the membership at large. Would our members support this concept? Contributions came in as soon as chapters began to hear the news and so did applications—effectively answering this compelling question across the Sisterhood. YES! Our members would support this effort—and did so with great enthusiasm.

And, the rest is history...May the P.E.O. STAR Scholarship, supported by the P.E.O. Foundation Undesignated Funds, Named and Endowed Scholarships, the P.E.O. STAR Constellation and all the very generous chapter donations continue to recognize young women of stellar achievement far into the future.
STAR THROUGH THE YEARS

Noel-Levitz survey of the membership indicated:
• P.E.O.s wanted a local project
• They wanted a way to talk about P.E.O. in the local community
• They wanted a way to find younger members

2007
Barbara Andes, President of International Chapter, formed an ad hoc committee to investigate the possibilities of a new project focusing upon graduating high school women.

1/08
The scholarship process was launched.

8/08
First meeting of what would become the P.E.O. STAR Scholarship Board of Trustees.

3/09
The pilot project had received over a half million dollars in contributions, including startup funds of $125,000 from the P.E.O. Foundation.

7/09
STAR was introduced to state/provincial/district presidents and organizers.

9/09
The P.E.O. STAR Scholarship became an official philanthropic project at the Convention of International Chapter in San Diego, California.
STAR was created to recognize achievement in areas beyond academic excellence. Extracurricular activities, community service and leadership are highly valued. Equally important are the applicant’s essay, chapter and reference responses.
P.E.O. STAR SCHOLARSHIP
CONSTELLATION CHAPTER RECOGNITION

A constellation is commonly defined as “a group of stars that form a pattern and are given a name.” It can also be applied to “any brilliant, outstanding group or assemblage.” Our stellar STAR recipients collectively epitomize the latter definition. Now, a local P.E.O. chapter also can become part of a STAR Constellation with a lump sum gift of $500.

Consult the P.E.O. STAR Scholarship page at https://www.peointernational.org/about-star for Constellation Chapter information.

Look up on a starry night and behold the array. Be part of that brilliance for stellar young women—become a P.E.O. STAR Scholarship Constellation Chapter!

NAMED P.E.O. STAR SCHOLARSHIPS

A named P.E.O. STAR Scholarship is a one–time scholarship presented to a graduating high school senior woman who meets the P.E.O. STAR Scholarship eligibility requirements as established. Funds for this one–time $2,500 scholarship shall be made up of contributions from individuals, chapters or collective gifts.

ENDOWED P.E.O. STAR SCHOLARSHIPS

An endowed P.E.O. STAR Scholarship shall be a designated scholarship supported by a specially endowed fund held in the P.E.O. Foundation. The principal of this endowed fund shall provide the income for the funding of this P.E.O. STAR Scholarship.★

“…the [STAR Scholarship] program remains a very important part of P.E.O.’s will and desire to support educational opportunities for women, and we continue to reap the benefit of recognition in our local communities through support of these outstanding senior high school women.”

— Barbara Andes, Past President, International Chapter

FROM BOARDROOM TO WAR ROOM

A Story About a Lost P.E.O. Pin

by Torri Spiegelhalter, GJ, Kansas City, Missouri

On the morning of September 11, 2001, I was 32 years old and supposed to be on a 6:05 a.m. flight to Philadelphia. I had been traveling non-stop for work and was feeling overwhelmed and under the weather. The night before, I decided to cancel my trip at the last minute. I worked for a Fortune 500 communications company and prior to 9-11, specialized in integrating video and data conferencing into corporate boardrooms. The day after 9-11, my company called on me to help our defense and federal agencies communicate after the attacks. I went from boardroom to war room.

The next thing I knew, I was spending every week and weekend on a plane, traveling coast to coast, helping our country respond, plan and prepare against future attacks. Working with countless federal agencies, I spent months at Quantico, I walked almost every inch of all NASA facilities and I saw the inner-workings of every Federal Reserve Bank in the U.S. as I helped them shore up their communications. And somewhere along the way, I lost my P.E.O. pin.

I looked for my P.E.O. pin for 15 years, sure that it wasn’t really lost, just misplaced. The thought of losing something so important was unbearable. For years I carried guilt that I had let down my mom, my sisters and P.E.O. I felt embarrassed over the years for failing to wear my P.E.O. pin to meetings or taking the time to replace it. However, being true sisters, they never judged, they simply embraced me.

Despite the demands of my career, I was determined to bring our chapter into the 21st Century. For years, I watched my mom manually piece together the annual P.E.O. Chapter yearbook. In 2002, I signed up for the yearbook committee, found some free software, and completed the 2003-2004 yearbook in a couple of days. The following year was a blur as my husband and I started a family. I put a bunch of stuff in storage to make room for the baby. Our first child was born in 2005, our second in 2006.

I continued to travel week in and week out for the next nine years. I was called upon by intelligence agencies across the country to help protect our homeland through communication and information sharing. I soon became a nationally-recognized industry expert in my field, speaking at more and more events across the country. As my career continued to accelerate, the demands to spend even more time away from home became too much. As much as I loved what I did, I hated how much I was missing at home more. So, in 2014 I walked away from a career that I loved, found a job where I can work from home and got busy making up for lost time.

Fast forward to April 2019 when I finally went through all those old boxes in storage and pulled out a bag—a freebie tote bag I had picked up at some conference. In the bag was my 2003-2004 P.E.O. yearbook, the Corresponding Secretary’s copy of the P.E.O. Constitution, my white shoes for initiations, the floppy disk with our yearbook program…and my P.E.O. pin!

This was special to me for so many reasons. My mom, Sandra Behnke, just retired this year as the President of the Greater Kansas City P.E.O. Reciprocity. My mother is my best friend and she has dedicated her life to P.E.O. One of my first, most fond memories as a child was meeting P.E.O.s—two of whom would later become the most dearly-loved women in my life. I am honored to be a P.E.O. My P.E.O. sisters mean the world to me. In my male-dominated, good ole boy world, where more often than not, I was the only woman in the room, I had no time outside of my career and family to develop close personal relationships with women…those things take time. P.E.O. has been my lifeline. And time and time again, without fail, my P.E.O. sisters lift me up, even if we have just met. And while the women of today are vastly different from our Founders, our bond cannot be broken. I am overjoyed that I found my pin! My P.E.O. circle is now complete.★
Hosting a P.E.O. B&B: RAISING FUNDS FOR PROJECTS, BONDING WITH SISTERS NEAR AND FAR by Susan Rogers, IG, Keokuk, Iowa

In 2018, two sisters from our chapter, IG, Keokuk, Iowa, stayed in a P.E.O. Bed and Breakfast in Kentucky. They reported it was a wonderful experience and the best part of the stay was talking with another P.E.O. sister. They learned that the B&B project was this chapter’s major fundraiser. As our group was getting tired of our garage sale fundraiser, we decided to give hosting a P.E.O. B&B a try.

Three of our sisters offered their homes and we were off! To say it has been a success would be an understatement. We have had wonderful guests from Illinois, Iowa, Colorado and Arizona so far. Who would have guessed our little town in southeast Iowa would be so popular?!

This project has been a real bonding project for our sisters. We work together to prepare breakfasts, help get houses ready, entertain guests and clean up.

We have enjoyed this wonderful way to raise funds while getting to know our sisters near and far.

Find More than 600 P.E.O. B&B Locations Online!

The P.E.O. Bed and Breakfast program began in 1981 with a single listing; now there are almost 700 participating chapters across the United States and Canada. This unique program has not only generated a considerable amount of money for our P.E.O. projects, but has created many lasting friendships as well.

There are two ways for active P.E.O. sisters to enjoy the P.E.O. Bed & Breakfast program: stay at one as a guest, or open your home as a hostess. Either way, you help finance the P.E.O. projects that help women around the world reach for the stars.

As of September 2017, the listing is only available online, allowing for the most up-to-date and accurate listings, including new locations. The online listing also protects the privacy of P.E.O. B&B hostesses as it is only accessible by P.E.O.s.

Visit the member website at https://members.peointernational.org/bedandbreakfast to view or print the listing. Here you can also find links to information about how to become a B&B hostess chapter.

Your One Stop for Convention Resources

by Annie Jenkins, Digital Communications Specialist

Keep the 2019 Convention of International Chapter experience going long after September 2019! Visit the Convention Connection page on the P.E.O. International member website at https://members.peointernational.org/ConventionConnection. This page is available to all members regardless if you attend convention. You’ll find everything needed to recreate the convention experience including photos, videos, voting results, reports and more. You’ll need the password to access the member website. Talk to your president or technology chair if you’re not sure what it is.

Here are a few things to look for on the Convention Connection page.

Official Proceedings
Proceedings from convention will be available in January.

Voting Results
Voting on proposed amendments is one of the most important aspects of convention. You can find full results on the Convention Connection page.

Chapter Report Outline
As delegates begin to create convention reports for their chapters, it might be hard to narrow down all the memories, thoughts and experiences into one concise report. The best solution is to start with the outline that can be found on the Convention Connection page. It will give you guidance on what to focus on and is the place to find details you might have forgotten like the exact spelling of a speaker’s name or specific points from a project recipient’s speech.

Projects Night Program Livestream Video
Projects Night is an inspiring part of Convention of International Chapter. Recipients of all six P.E.O. Projects speak about the ways P.E.O. has helped them reach their goals. The program will be livestreamed and will also be available as a video to watch later. You’ll be able to find a link to it on the Convention Connection page. It’s a great opportunity for sisters who weren’t able to watch it live or even for sisters who attended convention and want to watch and discuss the program again with their home chapters.

Professional Convention Photos
A professional photographer will be attending convention and taking photos throughout the week. You can find all the photos and order prints or digital copies of any of your favorites from a link on the Convention Connection page.

2019 Convention Videos
Several other videos, including interviews with project recipients and a convention highlights video, will be available on the Convention Connection page! The interviews will be great additions to chapter programs on the projects, and the shorter videos can be used as quick, inspiring motivators at the beginning or end of meetings.

2019 Convention Blog
The P.E.O. Record editor and P.E.O.’s digital communications specialist will be blogging throughout convention. It’s a great way to follow along, day by day, everything that happened in Des Moines. The link to the blog is available on the Convention Connection page, so you can go back and read recaps of the event.

Other Resources
The Convention Connection page is also the place to go to find handouts, PowerPoints and other resources from some of the seminars and workshops you attend at convention. If there’s something you’re trying to find, your best bet is to start with this page.

Once again, the Convention Connection is the place to go to keep the Convention of International experience going until 2021 in Portland, Oregon! Visit https://members.peointernational.org/ConventionConnection.
Past President of Supreme Chapter (1927-1929) Ola Babcock Miller was recently recognized and honored for her contributions to Iowa history by Iowa Women Lead Change, a statewide organization promoting women’s leadership.

Ola was one of three women who received the 2019 Iowa Women of Achievement Award, which recognizes the contributions of historical (deceased) Iowa women who made outstanding and lasting contributions to the citizens of Iowa or have advanced the well-being of others throughout the world.

As part of this recognition, Ola’s name was added to the Iowa Women of Achievement Bridge, a pedestrian bridge that crosses over the Des Moines River, as a visible reminder to all crossing the bridge of her contributions to her work, communities and the status of women.

Ola was initiated into Chapter J, Washington, Iowa, in 1888. She served as president of Iowa State Chapter from 1908-1909 and was elected president of Supreme Chapter in 1927. Under her administration, the ownership of Cottey College was transferred to the Sisterhood. She also dedicated the P.E.O. Memorial Library on the Iowa Wesleyan campus in 1927.

Ola served as Iowa’s first female Secretary of State (1932-1937) and is known as “The Mother of the Iowa Highway Patrol.” Upon her election to Secretary of State, she immediately set out to address the increasing number of deaths on Iowa roadways. In 1933, she sent out 15 “Motor Vehicle Inspectors” to patrol Iowa’s highways.

The inspectors began a one-month experiment to determine a need for a State Police or Highway Patrol agency in Iowa. The experiment was met with such success the Motor Vehicle Inspectors program was expanded and in May of 1935, the Iowa Legislature officially created the Iowa Highway Patrol.

Ola passed away in 1937; she was one of the first four women to be inducted into the Iowa Women’s Hall of Fame in 1975. In 1999, the Iowa Historical Building was renamed the Ola Babcock Miller State Office Building in her honor. In 2006, at a memorial service at her gravesite in Washington, Iowa, then Chief of Iowa State Patrol Robert O. Garrison said, “The contributions made by Ola Babcock Miller to the citizens of Iowa are immeasurable.”

Members of the Iowa Highway Patrol and representatives from P.E.O. (Carol Nemitz, former historian, Jackie Matt, executive director and Elizabeth E. Garrels, Past President of International Chapter) were on hand for the Iowa Women of Achievement Award ceremony on June 8.
October is LET’S GO FIND THE OTHERS Month

Can you imagine the excitement that our Founders felt when they decided to create P.E.O.? It’s written that Franc Roads immediately said, “Let’s go find the others!” She couldn’t wait to include others in their plans.

We want to recapture our Founders’ enthusiasm with Let’s Go Find the Others month. This is a great opportunity to introduce friends and family to our Sisterhood. Who do you know who would embrace the values of P.E.O. and support our mission?

More information about helpful resources are available on the P.E.O. member website at https://members.peointernational.org/resource/lets-go-find-others-month.

DO ANY OF THESE STATEMENTS DESCRIBE YOUR CHAPTER’S TYPICAL BUSINESS MEETING?

☐ The agenda is well planned and all officers are prepared for business.

☐ The meeting starts on time and is usually about 45 minutes long.

☐ Committees are prepared with their reports and proposals for action.

☐ Parliamentary procedures are followed for presenting motions and voting.

☐ Meaningful work for our mission occurs amidst a dollop of fun and plenty of sisterly love.

P.E.O. has carefully designed our chapter business meetings with ALL of these benefits in mind. Combining the structures already in place in our President’s Book with some practical leadership strategies, our meetings can flow with productive accomplishments and still value everyone’s time and effort. The best practices for efficient chapter meetings can be summarized with the letters P.E.O.!

P IS FOR PREPARATION

Preparation includes the intentional routines that are used consistently. The chapter president can:

• Use a Chapter Meeting Agenda prepared in advance for each meeting to supplement the “Order of Business” in the President’s Book.

• Keep track of information in one place, such as a binder or e-file.

• Read through the business meeting in advance.

• Call ahead to communicate with officers and committee chairs prior to the meeting.

• Arrive early and start the meeting on time.

• Review the minutes as soon as possible.

E IS FOR EDUCATION

Education ensures that each sister understands her particular role in the productivity of chapter business meetings. This includes clear training and timely communication. Key factors here are:

• Officers understand expectations and duties.

• Committees do their work outside of the business meetings and come ready to present results and motions.

• All members understand the meeting flow and protocol and new members are mentored.

O IS FOR ORDERLY STRUCTURE

Our Sisterhood has a built-in orderly structure that sets us up for success in our quest for efficient meetings. Follow the President’s Book “Order of Business” as well as the instructions in the Appendix sections to ensure use of Robert’s Rules of Order as required by our P.E.O. Constitution. Some important benefits are:

• Proper procedures for making motions and voting are followed.

• All sisters’ rights are equal and protected and all voices are heard.

• There are consistent and professional standards across our organization.

It IS possible! Your P.E.O. chapter meetings can reflect the introductory statements when all sisters learn they have a part in creating them. Meetings that flow with efficiency and are a joy to attend as well as to lead can be your chapter’s “new normal.”★

To get more details about all of these strategies, watch the 20–minute video called “Leading Efficient Chapter Meetings,” found under “Productivity” in the Leadership Development area of www.peointernational.org. You can print out the “Top Tips” handout and the “Chapter Meeting Agenda” template. This module would make an informative chapter program or larger group workshop as well.

LEADERSHIP TIP

P.E.O. leadership strategies are also applicable in your professional life and community volunteer positions.
CONTINUING THE LEGACY OF OUR FOUNDERS

WE ARE THE BUILDERS

by Jan Loftin, Chairman, International Chapter Membership Committee

Who are the Founders and builders of the P.E.O. Sisterhood? Well, we know who the Founders are. We have been talking about them a lot lately as we celebrate our sesquicentennial year. They were those seven young women, ages 16 to 20, who were students at Iowa Wesleyan University in 1869. They had such a strong bond of friendship that when not all of them were invited to join a new sorority these seven decided to start a society of their own. It was a time when women were breaking out of their mold and fighting for their rights. A snapshot of life in 1869 would show a world where automobiles and computers were far in the future. Communication was largely by hand-written letters. Many women did not have the opportunity to go to college or to study the sciences, technology, engineering or mathematics. They were mainly teachers and homemakers. The time was right for establishing a women's organization. To quote Alice Bird Babb in 1919, “It was the age of vision, reconstruction not only along national lines, but reconstruction of thought, minds, souls. Women's clubs were demanded, they came just at the right time.”

The seven Founders quickly initiated additional members and by the end of the first year the first chapter had grown to 23 members. The decision was made to have an organization that was community-based and not restricted to college campuses. Early members who believed in the value of the young Sisterhood knew P.E.O.’s purpose was important to share. They also knew an enlarged organizational structure was necessary in order to effectively expand. These first “builders” established governance structure beyond local chapter officers and worked for growth in new locations. This allowed the Sisterhood to gain strength. By the turn of the century there were 120 chapters in 10 states; three state chapters had been organized and the Supreme Grand Chapter had been created. The number of local chapters had nearly doubled in just seven years!

Those first seven young women laid the foundation for the Sisterhood we love, but it was the builders who followed them that took it to the next levels. You can read about several early builders in the beautiful sesquicentennial history book, “We Who Are Sisters.”

Through all decades, there have been other builders who seized the opportunity to deepen and strengthen P.E.O.’s significance. The establishment of the Educational Loan Fund in 1907 was the first of P.E.O.’s philanthropic projects, launching the beginning of what was to become the essence of our mission—helping women reach their higher educational goals.

In 1927, we acquired Cottey College which brought a new dimension to our educational opportunities for women. Then following World War II, other builders saw a need for scholarships for students outside the United States and the International Peace Scholarship Fund was formed. One by one the other philanthropies were added as other builders continued to grow the Sisterhood and form it into the philanthropic educational organization it is today.

Today we have more than a quarter of a million active members in nearly 6,000 chapters in every state in the United States and six provinces in Canada. Since 1869 there have been 653,694 sisters initiated into P.E.O.!

We started as a small group of very close young women who wanted to maintain their friendship. Today we are a multi-million-dollar philanthropic educational organization where women celebrate the advancement of women, educate women through scholarships, grants, awards, loans and stewardship of Cottey College and motivate women to achieve their highest aspirations. We are a Sisterhood where loving concern is an integral part of all we do and where we take loving care of each other.

Where do we go from here? We are now the builders, sisters. The future is ours and it is up to us to keep this wonderful legacy moving forward into the next 150 years.

Where do we go from here? We are now the builders, sisters. The future is ours and it is up to us to keep this wonderful legacy moving forward into the next 150 years. We must continue to grow and that means continuing to organize new chapters and offer the benefits of sisterhood to today’s women. Together we can do it! ★
What makes you a philanthropist? When do you become a philanthropist? Is some sort of grand gesture required for giving to turn into philanthropy? We all have different life experiences and different causes that motivate our giving. As your life journey continues and experiences broaden, you may find that your focus changes.

These vignettes portray P.E.O. sisters from different generations. They all support charitable causes, though how they play out are different. See how and when we give our time, talent and treasure are affected, in part, by our generation, values and earning power.

Philanthropy | phi-lan-thro-py : private initiatives for public or common good.

Philanthropist | phi-lan-thro-pist : someone who donates her time, money and reputation to charitable causes. (Fundamentals of Modern Philanthropy, 2014)

Women born before 1931 often do not feel that their money is truly “theirs.”*

Greatest Generation
This sister grew up in a household where any financial assets her mother brought into the marriage became the property of her father. Her generation is characterized by the values of sacrifice, conformity, respect for authority, duty before pleasure and adherence to rules. Married right out of college, philanthropic giving is determined solely by her husband. As a widow she believes herself to be the guardian of her wealth, as she did not earn the money herself but inherited it. Her primary “charities” are her grandchildren, though she does support other causes to a lesser degree.

Women born 1931-1945 tend to be wary of money and the power attached to it.*

Baby Boomer
This sister has a career, is married and has a family. She came of age in a time when she could get credit on her own, without reliance on her spouse’s income to qualify. Her generation is characterized by the values of optimism, team-based work, personal growth, work and involvement. She lives to work and expects to have greater financial resources than her parents. As the “owner” of her wealth, she is empowered to make decisions regarding how to spend it.

Women born between 1946-1964 are more likely to have spent significant amounts of time in the workforce and make their own decisions about money.

Generation X
This sister was in the workforce before marriage and works to live. Her generation is characterized by the values of diversity, balance, techno-literacy, informality, fun and self-reliance. Unlike the baby boomer sister, she is skeptical that she’ll do better financially than her parents. Her decisions on how to spend her money, including philanthropic giving, are separate and apart from that of her husband or partner.

Women born after 1980 believe they have enough money to lead the lives they want or expect in the future.*

Regardles of when you were born, how you were raised, and how you live your life now, as a P.E.O. you are a philanthropist. Through the P.E.O. Foundation you can permanently support the projects, and that is a grand gesture. For more information, visit peointernational.org/peo-foundation.

The P.E.O. Educational Loan Fund (ELF) has approved loans to 48,490 recipients totaling $208,220,409 since its creation in 1907. ELF has continued to grow and currently grants loan approvals averaging over a million dollars per month! As our Sisterhood looks back over 150 years and looks forward to an even stronger future, how can we explain and continue such remarkable success?

The answer is more obvious than we might initially think. It lies in the principle of stewardship. The Merriam-Webster Dictionary defines stewardship as:

the careful and responsible management of something entrusted to one’s care.

Stewardship of ELF begins with the local chapter. It is the local chapter, working at the ground level, who finds excellent candidates, helps determine their eligibility and conducts interviews to ascertain whether the application should be brought to the chapter for a vote. By advancing eligible, qualified candidates, the local chapter has completed the first step in the safe keeping of ELF funds. Qualified candidates have educational goals, seriousness of purpose, need and intent to pay back their loan to P.E.O. so funds will be available for those requesting future ELF loans.

While finding exceptional candidates is the first part of good stewardship, the second part is equally important. A chapter’s responsibility does not end when they click the submit button on the Online Chapter Recommendation Form. It is the responsibility of the chapter to maintain a supportive relationship with the applicant during the application process, while she completes her program of study and during the loan payback period.

The personal support received from P.E.O. sisters is often referenced in correspondence received from recipients. ELF recipient Jackalyn Fink, sponsored by Chapter AT, Tecumseh, Nebraska, wrote the following in her letter to the P.E.O. Sisterhood:

“I am not only honored, but humbled to be one of the recipients of the P.E.O. Educational Loan. With the help of your charitable support I can continue to pursue a lifelong dream and goal of mine, to become an oncology nurse. I appreciate the support that you have given me as well as each of you, who serve as role models, have given to many young women.”

Successful chapter/recipient relationships are based on communication during the application process by staying in contact to:

✓ Monitor the email spam folders in case filters prevent email from being delivered
✓ Help ensure the applicant has submitted her application within the required time frame
✓ Respond to inquiries from the trustees communicated by the ELF staff

Following loan approval notification, the local chapter should continue contact by:

✓ Sending a note of congratulations upon receipt of the ELF loan award
✓ Inviting the applicant to chapter social gatherings to share her educational goals and progress
✓ Communicating support throughout her program of study
✓ Celebrating graduation and loan repayment dates
✓ Considering the recipient for potential membership in the chapter

The importance of the relationship between applicants and chapters cannot be overstated. The impressive default rate of less than one percent of all ELF loans is directly related to the support received from the local chapters.

The magic of ELF’s success, both past and future, lies with the local chapters and their continued stewardship of this most remarkable resource…the P.E.O. Educational Loan Fund.

The Magic Element of ELF’s Success

by Mary Bormann, Vice Chairman, P.E.O. Educational Loan Fund Board of Trustees

Qualified Candidates + Relationships = ELF Stewardship
From time-to-time people ask me about the strength of the relationship between Cottey College and the community of Nevada, Missouri. The short answer is simple: strong! As President of Cottey, I feel so fortunate that Cottey has a robust relationship with the individuals, businesses, organizations, non-profits and churches in Nevada.

One unique relationship that has been established is the use of the shells from locally-grown pecans as mulch. Visitors to campus or to the President’s House often do a double-take when they notice the mulch in the flower beds; a quick look reveals that rather than wood chips, Cottey utilizes pecan shells.

The shells were first field-tested at Cottey a few years ago. According to retired physical plant director Neal Swarnes, Cottey chooses to utilize the shells because not only do they look beautiful, but also because they are less expensive than other types of mulch. In addition, using a locally-grown product supports our local businesses and protects the environment because little transportation is required. Pecan shells are delivered in giant, reusable canvas bags, resulting in no plastic bags being added to the landfill. Swarnes stated that this partnership has “proven to be both economically and environmentally friendly.”

The relationship with Nevada is not limited to pecans, of course. Cottey is fortunate to include Judge Jim Bickel on its Board of Trustees, and the Nevada mayor pro tem is a Cottey faculty member. Cottey is represented in a number of community organizations, including Rotary, Lions, Chamber of Commerce and P.E.O.

Each fall, the city of Nevada hosts a “Welcome to Cottey” event on move-in weekend, which allows new students and their friends and families to be introduced to the businesses, non-profits and churches of the community. Students may sign up for volunteer opportunities, pick up coupons from businesses or request rides to church services.

During the academic year, students are welcomed into Nevada businesses and non-profits for internships and community service. Over the past three years, Cottey students have completed 160 internships and almost 35,000 hours of volunteer work, which is a win-win. Not only do Cottey students gain experience and expand their resumes, Nevada organizations have work completed by talented, unpaid volunteers/interns that results in a cost saving to them.

Further, Cottey invites the community to be active in the life of the College. Local musicians are invited to join our instrumental ensembles and high school students have been cast in Cottey theater performances. Cottey dance instructors offer yoga classes for the community and dance classes for children. Athletic teams have offered softball and basketball camps for children, and the music department works with area high schools to offer workshops and performances with Cottey singers. Additionally, community members attend athletic events, concerts, plays and performances by professional entertainers.

Academic programs also partner with the area schools. For instance, French Club members work alongside French teachers in the high schools and psychology students and faculty meet twice a week with children who live in area low-income housing, offering a program that provides structure and nurturing relationships. The Office of Financial Aid partners with area financial advisors regarding financial literacy education for our students.

This is just a sampling of the ways in which Cottey and Nevada partner, offering the opportunity to work together for the growth and enhancement of each.
The P.E.O. International Peace Scholarship Fund (IPS) is celebrating its 70th anniversary and is grateful to all the P.E.O. sisters who joined the war effort during World War I and World War II, those in uniform and those not, who, after World War II, continued their efforts recommending the appointment of a Peace Participation Committee, whose work resulted in the establishment of the P.E.O. International Peace Scholarship Fund in 1949, to foster peace through education.

Many sisters served overseas in the armed services or as Red Cross volunteers. A number of whom drove two-and-a-half ton trucks called clubmobiles behind the infantrymen on the front lines. They served fresh, hot coffee with homemade donuts while playing big band records of Glen Miller, Duke Ellington and Jimmy Dorsey on the Victrola to lift the soldiers’ spirits. These sisters were called Donut Dollies.

One of our Donut Dollies was Margaret Elizabeth Gerhart Brodie, known as Bettie Brodie, initiated into Chapter CD, Le Mars, Iowa, on January 18, 1946, transferring to Chapter BE, Spirit Lake, Iowa, on November 1, 1994, and entering Chapter Eternal on July 1, 2005. Bettie grew up in the bay area of San Francisco in Burlingame. During World War II Bettie served in England, France and Germany and was proud of her uniform, an Eisenhower-type battle jacket with slacks in the same shade of blue and a jaunty billed cap. Seventy-five years ago, on D-Day, she was stationed in Southampton, England. Bettie was not a nurse, but on D-Day and the days following, she worked non-stop caring for and comforting injured soldiers, holding their hands, listening to their stories and helping them write letters home. In one of Bettie’s letters home she wrote: “Believe me, Mom and Dad, we Red Cross have seen more of this war than anyone—and what we’ve seen and heard could make an excellent book. We feel the spirit and soul of the war.”

At the end of the war, Bettie had a blind date with a handsome officer named Gordon Brodie. It was love at first sight. Three weeks later, they were engaged and married shortly thereafter, living most of their married life on the Brodie family farm near Merrill, Iowa. Bettie moved to Spirit Lake, Iowa, after Gordon’s death.

Another Donut Dollie was Priscilla Joy Everts, known as P.J. P.J. was initiated into Chapter GT, Beverly Hills, California, later transferring to Chapter NL, Los Angeles, California, and entering Chapter Eternal January 1, 2011. Both her mother and grandmother were P.E.O.s. P.J. spent the first few years of her life in Weyburn, Saskatchewan, before moving with her family to Kimball, Nebraska; then to California in 1925. According to P.J., her claim to fame was being the only girl in the Boy Scout Band of Beverly Hills where she played the clarinet. P.J. graduated from Beverly Hills High School as President of the Girls League and was the recipient of the Alpha Citizenship Cup. She attended Mills College for two years before graduating from UCLA as a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. P.J. launched her business career after graduating from Wright MacMahon Secretarial School. She then spent two-and-a-half years serving during World War II as a clubmobile driver.

When P.J. returned to Beverly Hills after World War II she held positions including Executive Secretary to the President of Mills College and Social Secretary to the Vice President and Mrs. Nixon. In January 1980, P.J. decided to take early retirement from her position with Northrop Corporation and once retired, was grateful to have time to be active with her very special sisters in Chapter NL.

A detailed history of P.E.O.s in wartime is found in the new pictorial history book “We Who Are Sisters.” ★
LINKING CHAPTERS TO CREATE RELATIONSHIPS

by Susan Spivey Penrod, P.E.O. Program for Continuing Education Board of Trustees

CHAPTER IN, SOUTHLAKE, TEXAS, IN COOPERATION WITH TWO NEARBY CHAPTERS, HAS SUCCESSFULLY SPONSORED 10 P.E.O. PROGRAM FOR CONTINUING EDUCATION (PCE) CANDIDATES IN TWO YEARS. ANNE DAHLSON, CHAPTER IN’S PCE CHAIRMAN SAYS, “WHAT I LOVE ABOUT P.E.O. AND OUR PROJECTS IS THAT WE JUST DON’T HAND OUT CHECKS AND WAVE GOODBYE; WE CREATE RELATIONSHIPS. IT REALLY BRINGS HOME WHAT P.E.O. IS ALL ABOUT.”

Looking for PCE candidates, Chapter IN contacted The Gatehouse, a faith-based agency that fills the gap for women between short-term services and permanent self-supportiveness. They found it to be a place to heal from trauma and to transition into independence—physically, mentally, emotionally and financially.

Jane Nugent, president of Chapter IN, along with Anne, met with staff to explore which P.E.O. projects might benefit Gatehouse residents. “We knew that PCE was the best fit, but didn’t want to overlook the chance to help staff members or others returning to school,” explained Barb Ruel, past president, Texas State Chapter and member of Chapter IN. “Once our chapter made the connection, it took time to educate and figure out the best way to proceed and we’ve gotten better at this over time,” recalls Barb.

The results were surprising. Chapter IN found itself flooded with many more requests than one chapter could support. The solution was simple. Chapter IN invited adjacent chapters IP in Trophy Club, and DY in Colleyville, to join in the efforts to help women enrolled in The Gatehouse program.

Penny McWilliams, president of Chapter DY, said once her chapter began to collaborate to support candidates, they began to understand more deeply that sisterhood extends beyond the bounds of your own chapter. Penny was surprised by the results and said, “Little did I realize what an impact this would make.”

Members report they have been deeply affected by relationships with candidates like Donna Williams who worked with the agency to triumph over abuse, reignite her enthusiasm, gain back her bright smile and once again begin to trust her sense of self-worth and self-confidence.

“The missing piece was the education necessary for employment to be self-supporting,” recalled Penny. “I was literally doing the ‘happy dance’ when the chapter received notice of Donna’s grant to complete her paralegal course. What a joyous occasion it was when all of Chapter DY could celebrate as we presented her with the check from PCE!”

A few months after completing the course, Donna sent word to Chapter DY saying, “I want to share the exciting news with you all. You have been instrumental and have been woven into this journey of mine. I am forever grateful that God placed me at The Gatehouse at the right time and at the right place as He knew I would be meeting you three beautiful ladies. The P.E.O. chapter made a difference. From the bottom of my heart, thank you.”

Chapter DY continues to mentor Donna as she seeks employment—sending cards, goody baskets and making calls to encourage her. “Not only has this support helped Donna,” remarked Penny, “but it also has brought our chapter together knowing we are truly helping women reach for the stars!”

Bonds of sisterhood served to link three chapters together in a common mission to provide funds for women in need of an education. As relationships developed between chapters and candidates, the results were transformational.

“I love PCE!” exclaims Anne Dahlson. “Working on this project has enabled me to meet some really incredible, amazing women. To watch them persevere under really difficult situations and then be able to help them along their journey with this grant, makes me very proud and appreciative of P.E.O.”

Donna Williams received a life-changing PCE grant.
The P.E.O. Scholar Awards Board of Trustees is pleased to announce that seven of the 150 Scholars for the 2019–2020 academic year have received the honor of being designated as Endowed Scholars. The Endowed Scholar program is made possible by the generous donations of individuals and chapters who establish endowment funds in the P.E.O. Foundation that produce income to support one or more Scholar Awards in a given year. Each of these awards is in recognition of these Scholars’ exceptional academic achievement and potential to make a difference in their field of study. All 150 Scholars received $15,000 awards.

The complete list of all 2019–2020 Scholars, with their biographies and photos, can be viewed on the Scholar Awards page on the P.E.O. International website at www.peointernational.org/meet-psa-recipients.

Caitlin Brown’s interest in clinical psychology was solidified as an undergraduate research assistant working with anxiety and decision-making. Caitlin earned B.A. degrees in both psychology and comparative literature and society from Columbia University, an M.S. in research in applied health psychology from the Autonomous University of Barcelona and is presently pursuing a Ph.D. in clinical psychology from the University of Miami. In addition, she is a Fulbright Fellowship recipient. Her research uses machine learning to study the connections between executive function and OCD. Caitlin’s career goal is to become a professor in a university psychology department or medical center.

This award was made possible by a fund established in 2003 from the Ventura Neale Trust. Ventura was initiated into Chapter AE, Madison, Wisconsin, in 1941 and later was a member of Chapter M, Miami, Florida. P.E.O. played an important role in Ventura’s life and she generously designated P.E.O. as the sole beneficiary of this trust. Thus, she continues to help outstanding women achieve their personal and professional goals.

Diana Denham holds a B.A. in development studies and Latin American studies from Brown University, and dual M.A.s in urban planning and Latin American studies from the University of California, Los Angeles. In 2020, she will complete a Ph.D. in urban studies at Portland State University. Her doctoral research investigates the impact of state-sponsored supermarket growth on the local, indigenous food markets of Mexico. Upon completion of her Ph.D., Diana plans to pursue tenure-track teaching positions in her field. She is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, and has studied in Nepal, Mexico, Brazil and Cuba.

Amy Goodson earned a B.S. in chemical engineering from Colorado School of Mines, and is currently working toward a Ph.D. in chemical and biomolecular engineering at Tulane University. Her research seeks to use computer simulation and laboratory experiments to develop polymers for applications in energy storage and nanoscale printing. Amy was awarded a National Science Foundation Graduate Research Fellowship and is the co-founder and chair of Tulane’s Graduate Women in Science and Engineering organization. Amy hopes to teach at the college level. Amy is a member of Chapter BF, Mandeville, Louisiana.

The Vera (Bobbie) G. Koefoot Endowed P.E.O. Scholar Award was established in 1988 with gifts from members of Bobbie’s family in honor of her service on the Executive Board of International Chapter. When Bobbie died in 1990, Nebraska State Chapter contributed to the fund in her memory.
Anna Kahkoska discovered her love of science as an undergraduate at Syracuse University where she graduated with a B.S. in biochemistry. Along with her admission to the incredibly competitive medical scientist training program at the University of North Carolina, she has already established a successful history of grants and awards at both the local and national level. Anna’s research focuses on a precision medicine approach to weight management in persons with type 1 diabetes. She has a unique combination of clinical, epidemiological, biostatistical and data science skills which, combined with her phenomenal intellect and outstanding scientific focus, make her one of the most talented translation scientists in our nation.

The Carolyn E. Conway Endowed P.E.O. Scholar Award was established in 1996 by Chapter U, Westfield, New Jersey, from the estate of Carolyn E. Conway. Carolyn was initiated into Chapter Z, New York, New York, in 1946, and she transferred to Chapter U, Westfield, New Jersey, in 1972, where she remained an active member until her death in 1994.

Takara Stanley holds a B.A. in social studies, an M.D. in medicine from Harvard University and is pursuing a Ph.D. in epidemiology at the Boston University School of Public Health. She chose medicine as a way to use science compassionately to treat individuals, and she wants to change the current medical approach to obesity management. She already has influence in the medical community with 19 publications and nine conference presentations. As a pediatric endocrinologist, she is often referred children with obesity problems. Takara hopes that the skills she is acquiring will position her for continued research in better health outcomes of children with obesity.

The Jane G. Hines Memorial Scholarship Fund was established in 1998 by Chapter EG, Kansas City, Missouri. Jane was a long-standing member of Chapter EG. In 2004, the chapter determined to use the income from the fund to support the P.E.O. Scholar Awards.

Uzma Wilson holds a B.S., magna cum laude, in cell and molecular biology and an Au.D. from Missouri State University. She is working toward her Ph.D. in communication sciences at Northwestern University. Uzma finds helping individuals with hearing or balance impairment extremely rewarding. Her research focus is on accurate diagnostics, better accessibility and affordability of hearing health care and innovative approaches to rehabilitation. Her long-term project goal is to advance the routine clinical use of otoacoustic emissions for detecting and monitoring age-related decline in inner ear function across the entire cochlea.

This award was made possible by a generous bequest from Marian K. Hume. A 56-year member of P.E.O. until her death in 1998, Marian served as president of Ohio State Chapter in 1955. She was a great traveler and enjoyed meeting women from different countries and learning about their work. Her legacy to P.E.O. was to continue to bring higher education to women students around the world.

Perri Tutelman earned a Bachelor of Health Sciences from McMaster University summa cum laude and was honored as an Outstanding Young Canadian by Prime Minister Trudeau in the presence of the Duke and Duchess of Cambridge. Perri’s work in clinical psychology at Dalhousie University seeks to better understand and improve the pain, symptom management and quality of life of children with cancer. Today, over 80 percent of children diagnosed with cancer are expected to survive, but survivors often face new physical and psychological challenges, including chronic pain. Perri’s research seeks to understand the factors associated with this pain.

The Mary Louise Remy Endowed P.E.O. Scholar Award was the first Endowed award and was established through gifts from California State Chapter in honor of Past President of International Chapter Mary Louise Remy, who presided at the Convention of International Chapter in 1991, the year that Scholar Awards was adopted as the fifth philanthropy of the P.E.O. Sisterhood.
New Presidents of State, Provincial and District (S/P/D) Chapters were installed at S/P/D conventions this spring. These leaders will help shape the future of our Sisterhood and have already dedicated years of service to P.E.O. CHAPTER PK
Center Point, Iowa
ORGANIZED:
March 31, 2019
The second Saturday of every July brings thousands of visitors to the small Oregon town of Sisters, situated on the east side of the Cascade Mountains. The event is the annual Sisters Outdoor Quilt Show, the largest outdoor quilt show in the country. The week prior to the day of the show finds visitors from around the globe flooding the town to participate in The Quilter’s Affair, a series of classes.

All of that energy and creativity needs nourishment and this year Oregon’s P.E.O. Chapter FS stepped up to fill that need. Nearly all 41 sisters in Chapter FS helped run the Marguerite Café. Baking started months before as the sisters filled their freezers with cookies, scones and sweet breads. Sisters wore aprons sporting marguerites and everyone wore bright yellow hats. Preparation for each day began the night before with early morning crews assembling the orders. On Monday, the first day of the café, orders for lunches numbered in the 40s. As the reputation of the delicious salads and wraps spread, more and more quilters came to buy. They also enjoyed a large quantity of coffee, tea, water, sodas and lemonade. On Friday, the closing day of the Affair, over 100 lunches were requested. When the week ended and all of the receipts tallied the chapter had netted over $4,500 for their projects.

FS sisters are excited over the funds that were raised. However, they are equally excited about the camaraderie and sisterly love that grew throughout this project. Without hesitation they unanimously voted to repeat the Marguerite Café next year at the 45th celebration of the quilt show.

Eight members of Chapter BK, Athens, Georgia, purchased tickets and decorated a P.E.O.-themed table for a luncheon event called La Table, hosted by a nonprofit organization in Athens to supplement funds needed to care for children and families who are experiencing homelessness.

The P.E.O. table was one of more than 30 lavishly-decorated tables at the event. For P.E.O.’s table, a daisy-patterned umbrella was exhibited upside-down on a glass cylinder filled with miniature white lights. The table also featured stained-glass marguerites, gold star balloons, gold streamers, glass napkin rings with daisies and fresh flowers.

Chapter BK sisters enjoyed the fellowship of working together on this project. Many women stopped by the P.E.O. table during the viewing time and asked for information about the organization. Members were pleased to have this opportunity to speak with members of the community about our Sisterhood.
Walking Group Strengthens Bonds of Sisterhood

Sisters in Chapter AN, Minden, Nevada, have formed a P.E.O. walking group. The group meets once a month to get to know each other better and explore the beautiful area where they live. As Chapter AN grows and welcomes new members, the walking group is a great way to get to know new sisters while enjoying nature and getting exercise.

Local Chapter Donates 150 Books in Honor of P.E.O.’s 150th Anniversary

Members of Chapter HQ, Kennewick, Washington, completed a combined “Give Back/150th Anniversary” project.

Chapter HQ has committed to doing a “Give Back” project for the past three years. Year one they collected and donated books to an elementary school program that gives students books to take home and keep. The second year they made gift baskets to be used in silent auction fundraisers for two non-profit organizations in the community. This year they chose to do a permanent children’s picture book library of hardback books for the new Boys and Girls Club in Kennewick. Chapter president, Jane Bryce, suggested a donation of 150 Books for the 150th P.E.O. anniversary. Everyone in the chapter loved the idea, and sisters are celebrating the achievement of this goal. Everyone was energized and committed to seeing this project completed as they gathered books from March to June.

Book plates were designed and include the information that the books were given in honor of the 150th P.E.O. Anniversary. The chapter met their goal in June 2019 and the books were presented to the Boys and Girls Club in July to become a part of their permanent onsite library.

Walking Group Strengthens Bonds of Sisterhood

Sisters in Chapter AN, Minden, Nevada, have formed a P.E.O. walking group. The group meets once a month to get to know each other better and explore the beautiful area where they live. As Chapter AN grows and welcomes new members, the walking group is a great way to get to know new sisters while enjoying nature and getting exercise.

DOROTHY YODER

Dorothy Yoder, IH, Monument, Colorado, wrote the novel “Undeserved Consequences” in which broken people deal with undeserved consequences through their own filters. Amber, the heroine of this book, witnesses a murder that leaves her broken. During the following investigation, suspense builds as Amber encounters one challenge after another. Through determination her broken heart mends, and an unexpected gift wrapped in peace and hope gives her the fortitude to welcome the future.

Dorothy is a native Coloradan who lives in the foothills of the Rocky Mountains. She is inspired by the grandeur of nature and spends her leisure time hiking local trails. Although she lived in many states and abroad, and appreciates the diversity of each, she chooses Colorado as a setting for most of her fiction.

STACEY BIELER

Stacey Bieler, BZ, Lansing, Michigan, wrote “Albrecht Dürer: Artist in the Midst of Two Storms,” a biography of the German Renaissance artist. The book quotes his letters and journals and has 136 figures, more than half in color.

Stacey usually writes books about Chinese history including Chinese Christians. She became intrigued with Dürer after she heard he wrote a lament in his journal because he thought Luther had been kidnapped and killed. Why did this famous artist and entrepreneur risk his reputation and life by following Luther’s teachings?

Stacey volunteers with international students at Michigan State University and as a docent at her local zoo. She is now working on a history and archeology book for parents (and grandparents) to share with children.

ANN LYNN NOBLE

Ann Lynn Noble, IY, Frisco, Texas, wrote “Glow and Grow in the Grace of God” with her 12-year-old granddaughter, Carlisle Hope Noble.

Ann believes that God is speaking to us through our children and grandchildren and that children have pure faith that God is able to use for His Kingdom. That is what this book is all about. “Glow and Grow in the Grace of God” won first place in the Children’s Christian category in the 2019 Texas Authors contest.

Ann’s sister-in-law Nancy Wilkinson, also a P.E.O., designed the cover of the book.

Ann has been a P.E.O. for more than 50 years. She is a retired teacher; she taught grades first through eighth in the United States and Germany. Ann has three grown children and three granddaughters.

REBECCA KAHLER PALMER

Rebecca Kahler Palmer, DS, Pleasant Hill, Missouri, wrote and illustrated “Bee in Yoga,” a colorful picture storybook written in rhyme for children and those young at heart who want to explore yoga. The story unfolds as a cranky and out of balance Brad-a-Bee Honeybee meets kind and peaceful Annie Butterfly. Annie shares with Brad-a-Bee a new way of “bee-ing” by engaging in the practice of yoga. The book includes a descriptive glossary of yoga poses with illustrations to accompany the story.

Rebecca has master’s and B.S. degrees in education from the University of Missouri. After retiring as a gifted education teacher she earned certification in yoga and Silver Sneakers (senior fitness). She volunteers teaching yoga to school children and P.E.O. groups. She has been a P.E.O. for 19 years.

RENEE MAGNUSON

Renee Magnuson, Z, Titusville, Florida, wrote “Reflections of a Grace-Filled Life,” a book of inspirational stories of ordinary everyday lives that touch upon the struggles common to us all. The book aims to inspire and remind readers of God’s power at work in their daily lives.

Renee has a passion for encouraging women to go deeper in their walk with Christ. She serves as a speaker, teacher and mentor to many women. She and her husband, Bruce, have been married for over 41 years. She is mom to six grown children and their spouses and grandma to 10 grandchildren.

REBECCA FARNBACH

Rebecca Farnbach, FE, Murrieta, California, wrote “James Liddell Phillips, D.D., M.D.” about the influential, but little known James L. Phillips.

A twin with a humble beginning in Balasore, India, James became a giant in the worldwide Sunday school movement of the 1880s. He served pastorates in the states of New York, New Hampshire and Rhode Island. Eventually, James served as Secretary of Foreign Missions, he started schools and churches and was a guest of two U.S. presidents. When James died in India at age 55, his obituary ran in Calcutta, London and New York. A church is named for him in Cranston, Rhode Island.

Rebecca received the Phillips family records in 1992. She and her equally-avid historian BIL, Darell, did exhaustive research to put the story together.

Rebecca’s persistent research and literary skills have made her a valuable player in compiling local history materials in her hometown and in her family circles. She has received numerous writing awards.
JOY EASTRIDGE

Joy Eastridge, V, Kingsport, Tennessee, co-wrote children’s book “Bennie Goes Up! Up! Up!” with Brynn Welch. Join Bennie as he grows up and goes up! From learning to crawl to learning to climb, readers can come along with Bennie as he dreams about new ways to soar and reach for the stars. This book is appropriate for infants and toddlers, who will love the bold colors and story, as well as for older children, who will enjoy discovering the occasional big word and hidden detail.

Joy is a third generation P.E.O. She works as a parish nurse in her local congregation and enjoys writing Bible studies and is a regular contributor to a nursing website. She is passionate about working toward making the world a better place for children to grow up.

NANCY REVELLE NEWBROUGH

Nancy Revelle Newbrough, EP, Houston, Texas, wrote “God’s Amazing Answers To Prayer—Daily Stories of Extraordinary Grace,” a compilation of 366 miraculous, true stories of God’s mighty response to the heart cries of His people with accompanying Bible verses and prayers.

Almost 20 years ago, Nancy’s church began to include a “God Answers Prayer” story each Sunday in the program and on the church’s website. These stories are submitted by members of the congregation and edited by Nancy. This collection of stories recounted by ordinary people reflect a myriad of situations encountered in life.

Nancy received a Bachelor of Arts degree in journalism from Louisiana State University and worked in publications for Exxon Corporation.

JO ANNE PIERCE

Jo Ann Pierce, EE, Duncan, Oklahoma, wrote “A Mountain of Love.” When Jo Ann began her career in education, immersion in the classroom experience seemed like enough of a challenge—balancing the demands of family life as a wife and mother with the steep learning curve of mentoring and nurturing students was as much as she thought she could handle. But as she learned to trust her goat-like sense of balance on uneven terrain, she realized she could see a summit above her, and that it was within reach. Bit-by-bit, her vision emerged; this memoir shares her upward climb as a “wannabe” principal, with successes and failures, personal notes and memories. Deeply personal yet universal not only to teachers and principals, but all leaders, this book illuminates the heart of Jo Ann’s quest to find her best self, for the service and benefit of others.

Jo Ann describes herself as an educational mountain climber. In 2009, she opened ASPIRE HIGHER Educational and Leadership Consulting, LLC, contracting with businesses and school districts.

PAM MURRAY

Pam Murray, BI, Walla Walla, Washington, wrote “Live Impossibly: Go Beyond Yourself.” Pam has traveled the world, teaching people to create the life of their dreams. She offers simple, practical life-tools, sprinkled with spiritual thoughts and true-life stories that will help readers take those next steps.

Pam says that “Living Impossibly” means that you don’t take life for its face value. You see beyond the appearances, work with universal principles and walk in the flow of abundance in all areas of your life.

Pam says, “developing your intuition is not as hard as you might think, especially if you use my simple processes to listen to guidance from within.”

JOHNNIE BERNHARD

Johnnie Bernhard, D, Biloxi, Mississippi, wrote her second novel, “How We Came to Be,” about a 50-year-old high school English teacher and adoptive mother coming to terms with being a single-parent and a clumsy drunk in the multicultural melting pot of Houston, Texas, and the unlikely friendship she forges with a WWII Hungarian refugee who inspires her to change her views on motherhood, drinking and men. “How We Came to Be” was a finalist in the 2017 International Faulkner-Wisdom Competition. Named a “Must Read” by Southern Writers Magazine, it was a featured novel for panel discussion for the 2018 Louisiana Book Festival.

A former English teacher and journalist, Johnnie is passionate about reading and writing. Her work has appeared in numerous publications.

COLETTE ANDERSON GILL

Colette Anderson Gill, JK, Evergreen, Colorado, is the author of the poetry collections, “Silk & Sting” and “Peregrine Questions.” “Peregrine Questions” begins: “We live in history the way fish live in water.” The poems ask, “What happens when a teen comes of age in Brazil during a military coup—and returns to the USA a stranger?” She shuttles for years to Latin America, Spain, Russia and France. A cultural exile, the poet studies the footmarks and dust-plumes of Simone Well, Thomas Aquinas, Anna Akhmatova, Osip Mandelstam and others. She fingers authors’ lives to piece together a philosophy and a home. The book is a spiritual autobiography.

Colette received the Howard Moss Poetry Prize from the University of Houston and is a member of the Squaw Valley Community of Writers. She is a retired anthropologist and university instructor.

By the time this issue of The P.E.O. Record "hits the stands," the historic 150th Conventional of International Chapter will be a collection of memories for the P.E.O.s and BILs who attended. Hopefully, among those memories was a visit to the Cottey room and the model on display of the new Cottey Student Center and Chapel facelift. How exciting to see first-hand what will be built and envision the impact this will have on campus life, alumnae, P.E.O.s and the community for generations to come.

In anticipation of the display at International Convention, the BILs of Chapter JT, Wasco, California, decided to lead the way and do their part in helping to fund the initiative.

The interesting background of the BILs of Chapter JT may serve as an example for other BILs:

- There are two scheduled BIL meetings each year, one in summer and one at Christmas.
- They all must wear a pin (somewhat like a sheriff’s star) and if they forget, they are fined $1.
- The newest BIL is automatically appointed president.
- P.E.O.s are forbidden to speak during BIL meetings.
- The BILs maintain a metal box of notes and memorabilia going back years, including a promissory note from the infamous Texas fraudster, Billie Sol Estes; with that note, of course, never paid.

The following was reported by Chapter JT treasurer, Priscilla Neufeld, from their most recent BIL meeting:

“Having heard about the Cottey Chapel and New Student Center initiative, our president, Janet Grundt, contacted our BIL president prior to our summer BIL event. Desmond Wilson was glad to have an agenda item. So, during the meeting he brought up the subject, mentioning that we had 25 BILs in Chapter JT and maybe each would want to donate $50. One BIL whipped out a $100 bill and more money followed until we had over $1,000. And when a widowed P.E.O. spoke on the issue—even though forbidden to speak during BIL meetings—it was suggested that her BIL might want to donate $100 posthumously. The total raised during that BIL meeting was $1,170 plus $6 that BILs were fined for not wearing their BIL pins.”

The Cottey office received the letter from Chapter JT including a check for $1,176 with the request that the donation to the new Student Center and Chapel update be in the form of a Small Paver Naming Opportunity with the engraving “The BILs of P.E.O. Chapter JT, Wasco, CA.”

When considering a donation of a brick or paver, or any of the many other naming opportunities, simply call the Cottey Office of Institutional Advancement at 417-667-8181, ext. 2120.

$500 – Brick 4” x 8”
Up to 3 lines of 23 characters of text

$1,000 – Small Paver 8” x 8”
Up to 4 lines of 23 characters of text

$2,500 – Mid-size Paver 12” x 12”
Up to 6 lines of 23 characters of text

$5,000 – Large Paver 16” x 16”
Up to 6 lines of 23 characters of text

The BILs of Chapter JT, Wasco, California, are a shining example of how we BILs can do our part in continuing the legacy of those 1950’s BILs who raised funds to pay for the initial construction of the Chapel. Whether brick-by-brick or paver-by-paver, they all add up, each with a long-lasting recognition of the contribution. ★
