P.E.O. (Philanthropic Educational Organization) is passionate about its mission:

promoting educational opportunities for women. Our sisterhood proudly makes a difference in women's lives with six philanthropies that include Cottey College, a women's college with two- and selected four-year programs, and five programs that provide higher educational assistance: P.E.O. Educational Loan Fund, P.E.O. International Peace Scholarship Fund, P.E.O. Program for Continuing Education, P.E.O. Scholar Awards and P.E.O. STAR Scholarship. P.E.O. is headquartered in Des Moines, Iowa.

P.E.O. Educational Loan Fund

Educational Loan Fund (ELF) is a revolving loan fund established in 1907 to lend money to qualified women students to assist them in securing a higher education.

P.E.O. International Peace Scholarship

P.E.O. International Peace Scholarship (IPS) Fund was established in 1949 to provide scholarships for international women students to pursue graduate study in the United States and Canada.

P.E.O. Program for Continuing Education

P.E.O. Program for Continuing Education (PCE) was established in 1973 to provide need-based grants to women in the United States and Canada whose education has been interrupted and who find it necessary to return to school to support themselves and/or their families.

P.E.O. Scholar Awards

P.E.O. Scholar Awards (PSA) was established in 1991 to provide substantial merit-based awards for women of the United States and Canada who are pursuing a doctoral level degree at an accredited college or university.

P.E.O. STAR Scholarship

The P.E.O. STAR Scholarship was established in 2009 to provide scholarships for exceptional high school senior women to attend an accredited postsecondary educational institution in the United States or Canada in the next academic year.

Cottey College

Cottey College is a fully-accredited private residential liberal arts and sciences college for women in Nevada, Missouri, with two-year and selected four-year programs. It has been owned and supported by the P.E.O. Sisterhood since 1927.

Individual donors may make tax-deductible gifts to the above mentioned projects or through the P.E.O. Foundation. Checks should be made payable to the project or the P.E.O. Foundation and sent directly to the P.E.O. Executive Office. Donations may also be made online through the website peointernational.org. Look for the "Giving Opportunities" link on the home page.

All P.E.O. chapters are classified by the United States Internal Revenue Service as exempt from Federal income tax, but they are not Section 501(c)(3) charities. Consequently, contributions to P.E.O. chapters are not deductible as charitable contributions for Federal income tax purposes.

P.E.O. is a philanthropic organization where women celebrate the advancement of women; educate women through scholarships, grants, awards, loans and stewardship of Cottey College; and motivate women to achieve their highest aspirations.

Acceptance Remarks at Convention of International Chapter by Maria Baseggio, President, International Chapter

Reach New Heights

It is with great humility that I accept this gavel and also the privilege of serving as president of International Chapter. P.E.O. has enriched my life beyond measure so it is a tremendous honor to have this opportunity to give back to my P.E.O. sisters by offering my service to the Sisterhood at large. The leaders before me paved a path that was built upon the foundation established by our Founders and will enable us to address the ever changing needs of women in today's society. According to our historical records, Franc Roads Elliott had the perspective that "every day is a world made new." If our Founders were still with us today, I believe they would be surprised, yet also proud, to see how far we have advanced their vision and have continued to enrich women's lives around the world.

I suspect our Founders would agree with the words of another woman who, although she was blind, had great vision. Helen Keller once wrote, "Optimism is the faith that leads to achievement." P.E.O.s are noted for our optimism and also for our achievements. Our history shows we have surpassed every challenge we have accepted. We are an organization of optimistic, overachieving women who enjoy giving more than receiving. It has been that way since the early days of our sisterhood.

One of the earliest challenges we accepted was in 1916, when P.E.O.s were asked to increase the P.E.O. Educational Loan Fund to $100,000 by our 50th anniversary. Our members exceeded this challenge by over 10 percent.

In 1925 we accepted another challenge. P.E.O.s were asked to raise $100,000 for a memorial library on the campus of Iowa Wesleyan college to honor the Founders and our sisterhood. We met this challenge in September 1927 when the library was dedicated to the college free of debt. But P.E.O. had more to accomplish that year. Just one month later P.E.O. accepted a gift from Virginia Alice Cottey Stockard and became owners of Cottey College.

Cottey's Defining Moments Campaign is the most recent example of our determination to exceed a tremendous challenge. Through donations from individual members, chapters, BILs, Cottey alumnae and friends, we achieved the goal of $35 million in just four years—months before the official end of this campaign. The volunteer support provided by P.E.O.s during our Chapter Challenge is unsurpassed.

What's even more amazing is that, during the time of this campaign, contributions to our five other philanthropic projects increased by an average of four percent per year. Our legacy continues—no challenge is too great for P.E.O.!

What other organization has a membership that is so giving and whose families are so supportive of its cause? The fact that our BILs are such advocates of P.E.O. speaks volumes about the good work we accomplish. In addition to being thankful for the selfless contributions of time, talent and financial support given by our members, we are grateful for the support from our BILs and our family members.

We don't "join" P.E.O.
to belong to an organization that fills a temporary need or interest. . . we "commit" to P.E.O. for a lifetime because of an unparalleled loyalty to our philanthropic purpose and to each other.

It's clear that P.E.O.s have a history of setting higher expectations once existing challenges are met. We don't "join" P.E.O. to belong to an organization that fills a temporary need or interest . . . we “commit” to P.E.O. for a lifetime because of an unparalleled loyalty to our philanthropic purpose and to each other.

This is what sets P.E.O. apart from other organizations. This is what we need to continuously convey to women who may be candidates for membership because they share our values and are interested in our philanthropic purpose. By doing so, we can show them how P.E.O. helps fulfill a desire today’s women have for giving back to society. By doing so, we can exceed the greatest challenge facing P.E.O. in recent years—that of increasing our membership. Are you up for this challenge?

It has been eight years since our membership has grown. In 2005, with over 250,000 members in slightly more than 5,900 chapters our net growth was approximately 400 members. Today we have approximately 237,000 members and only 21 more chapters than we had eight years ago. Although various uncontrollable factors have contributed to our declining numbers, some factors impacting our membership are manageable—especially when members take personal ownership for resolution.

There are many benefits of growth in our sisterhood which all center around two main points. A healthy, growing membership enables us to touch more women’s lives through our caring concern for each member and through the educational assistance we provide to women around the world.

The ways we can grow our membership are simple. The responsibility lies with each one of us. Individually we have the opportunity to look within and beyond our inner circle of friends for women who would be congenial to our members, share our values and actively support our philanthropic projects. We can support the health of our chapter by serving as an officer and/or committee member. As a chapter, we need to provide our members with an enriching experience that creates a desire for all members to actively participate and is welcoming to new members of diverse backgrounds. It’s important to ensure that our programs and activities are focused on the varied interests of our members and that we continuously nurture all members whether they are a new initiate or a member who has enjoyed P.E.O. for many years. By taking these actions, our chapter’s total membership will likely increase each year.

International Chapter has leveraged technology where appropriate and created supporting materials to assist with the growth and health of our chapters. Regional Membership Representatives have been assigned to work with state, provincial and district officers and membership committees. This support is effective when used to its full potential through our personal commitment to grow.

Have you ever considered what the “Power of One” can achieve? What if each . . .

- . . . member introduced to her chapter members or to a chapter located in the area in which this woman lives at least one friend, colleague or acquaintance who shares our values and supports our philanthropic purpose?
- . . . local chapter increased their “total number of active members” each year by at least one by focusing on the chapter’s health, encouraging inactive members to reinstate and inviting new members?
- . . . state, provincial and district chapter increased the number of active chapters each year by at least one by organizing new chapters and helping chapters revitalize rather than disband?

When we accept this challenge with the same vigor we have extended for previous challenges, there is no doubt our membership will grow and will become healthier at every level. There is no doubt we will reach new heights in our philanthropic contributions because we will have more members to seek out potential Cottey students, to raise funds for our philanthropic projects and to find eligible candidates for our financial assistance while still maintaining the core values of our sisterhood. So, I ask again: Are you up for this challenge to increase our membership? I believe you are!

As Aristotle once said, “Excellence is not an act—it’s a habit.” P.E.O.s have a habit of exceeding challenges. I have faith that my optimistic, overachieving P.E.O. sisters will rise to the occasion and will thoughtfully expand our membership as well as our philanthropic support. I am confident the dedication of each member will position us to Reach New Heights!

Sisters Helping Sisters

One of our sisters in Chapter EL, Coos Bay, Oregon, Heidi McCarthy, is just about to finish her degree from Lane Community College in Eugene, Oregon, to become a physical therapy assistant. She has a husband, three teen-aged kids and a job as a swim coach. It's been a struggle for her financially and emotionally to juggle a job, family and school, but she has persevered and we're very proud of her!

The last things she has to do are two six-week practical experiences—one at a nursing home and one at a hospital. Heidi completed her internship at a nursing home; her hospital experience program is in Florence, Oregon, which is 45 miles away from home. She has to work six days a week including a few hours on Saturday mornings. Driving home on Friday nights would be expensive and exhausting; she wished aloud that she could stay in Florence on Friday nights to get some rest and save some gas money; staying at a motel was not in the budget.

I contacted Joan Hayes, president of Chapter DY, Florence, Oregon, to see if they might be able to help. She was wonderful! She set up six nights of staying with different DY sisters so Heidi could "crash" on Friday nights and get some good sleep. It has been very helpful for Heidi.

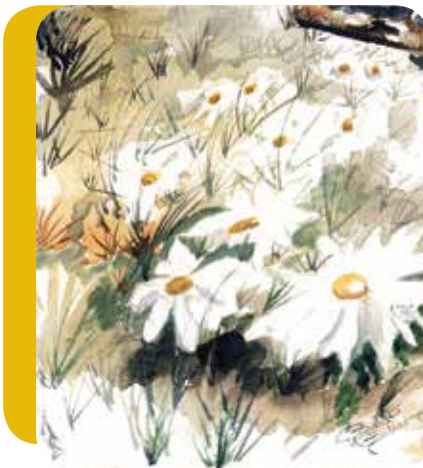

What a wonderful thing for DY sisters to do to help an EL sister! It's one more example of sisters helping sisters reach for the stars.

*Pat McArdle, EL,
Coos Bay, Oregon*

A Very Special Thank You Note

Fifteen years ago, my husband and I purchased a condo as our "home away from home" for our days down south on Hutchinson Island on Florida's east coast. Our neighbors were a lovely couple from the Chicago area, Jan and Barb Behrens. Over the years we enjoyed getting to know each other over dinners together, sharing stories about our lives. We learned that our neighbors had many talents—Jan is a skilled woodworker of decorative furniture and Barb is an accomplished pianist and artist. We admired Barb's oils and watercolors of varied subject matter, many that had been winners in juried art shows.

Watercolor by Barb Behrens

Last winter Barb had a knee replaced and I volunteered to be her "nurse" since I had just experienced the same surgery six months prior. Upon our return to Ohio, I received a thank you note from Barb written on a card with a beautiful watercolor painting of marguerites. My thoughts quickly flashed to my P.E.O. chapter and our talent auction. I couldn't wait to call Barb to see if she would produce note cards for us to sell. I called Barb to tell her how beautiful the painting was and that the flowers were the flowers of an organization that I belonged to (not mentioning P.E.O.). Almost before I finished my sentence, Barb literally shouted, "You are my sister! You are a P.E.O.!" I nearly dropped the phone—after 15 years, our special bond was discovered by a very special thank you note. Barb is a member of Chapter KI, Palatine, Illinois. After we composed ourselves, Barb agreed to produce several packets of note cards for me to have for our chapter talent auction fundraiser. They were a hit!

It is my hope to share with other sisters the beauty of Barb's watercolor and my wonderful experience and appreciation of the fellowship of P.E.O. Sisterhood.

P.E.O.: A Garden of Friends

I am so lucky to be a P.E.O. My husband Mike has stage IV lung cancer. My sisters just gave me a "Garden of Friends" book (with beautiful pictures of flowers) that lists sisters' names and phone numbers if I need help with things such as: picking up food, companionship (listening, hiking, walking or talking), gardening, sewing, handyman work by BILs, snow removal, yard work, pet sitting, shopping/errands, cleaning, chemo taxi service, car service, reading books to Mike and computer help. Wow! Am I a lucky sister or what? Chapter HV, Littleton Colorado, exemplifies giving of heart and spirit and sisterly love.

High-Tech Resource for History Program

One of our programs this fall was on the history of our bylaws. I was asked to play the old P.E.O. March on the piano. That began a discussion about the opening odes and we wondered if we could remember all the tunes. I take chapter secretary notes on an iPad so I browsed to the P.E.O. website and we played and sang (or at least reminisced about) all the Opening Odes using the iPad as music. Thanks for the great resource.

Meet the President—Maria T. Baseggio

by Shirley Lister, Past President Pennsylvania State Chapter

Maria Baseggio, newly installed president of International Chapter, was born and raised in Lawrence, Indiana. She graduated from Ball State University, Muncie, Indiana, receiving a Bachelor of Science degree in business with specialization in education.

She taught high school business subjects in Indianapolis before pursuing a career in the corporate world.

After becoming a sales representative for Burroughs, Maria moved to Tampa, Florida. Following a merger, which formed Unisys, she continued to accept management positions in sales, marketing and solutions management. These global responsibilities took her to Detroit, Philadelphia (twice) and London, England. Today, Blue Bell, Pennsylvania is home to Maria.

Currently, Maria is president of her strategic marketing consulting firm, SAGE Insights, and is an active member of the executive community in Philadelphia. As a member of the National Association of Women Business Owners (NAWBO), she serves on the board of its Philadelphia chapter. She is a member of the leadership team of the Greater Philadelphia Senior Executives Group (GPSEG), and serves on the governing body of ATHENAPowerLink® in Philadelphia.

Maria was introduced to P.E.O. by her aunt, Shirley Lister, Chapter CE, Pennsylvania, Past President Pennsylvania State Chapter when Chapter BT, Berwyn, Pennsylvania, was preparing for organization. She became a charter initiate of Chapter BT in 1987.

Grateful for P.E.O.'s transfer process, following career moves Maria has enjoyed membership in Chapter BL, Farmington Hills, Michigan, and currently, in Chapter CE, Lansdale, Pennsylvania, where she is a charter member.

P.E.O.'s caring outreach touched Maria when she lived in London during an assignment with Unisys. She enjoyed meeting Pat Taylor, 2002 president of the England P.E.O. Group, and years later, Maria visited the group while on business trips to England.

In 1994, Maria was elected to the Executive Board of Pennsylvania State Chapter, serving as president in 1999-2000. She introduced the state officers to electronic technology by obtaining donated computers for their use. She served on the Special Committee to Study Electronic Communication for International Chapter from 1997-1999.

In October 2000, Maria began serving a five-year term on the P.E.O. Educational Loan Fund Board of Trustees. She was elected to the Executive Board of International Chapter at the 2005 convention in Vancouver, British Columbia. During the 2007-2009 biennium, she served as chairman of the Ad Hoc Committee to Streamline the Work of Local Chapters.

Sharing P.E.O. with her Aunt Shirley and her cousin, Amy Lister Cavanaugh, Chapter DN, Indiana, is very special to Maria. She treasures visits with her sister and brother-in-law, Loretta and Mick Hauck, and with her godchildren, Hannah and Owen Cavanaugh. An active participant in Saint Helena's Roman Catholic Church, she also enjoys golf, reading and gardening.

Maria is inspired by the commitment to P.E.O., at every level of the Sisterhood, which produces a positive impact on women's lives around the world. She's grateful for the privilege of serving as president of the P.E.O. Sisterhood with such a dedicated leadership team and Maria is confident their progressive actions will balance the interests of today's women with our heritage, both, so valued by our members. 🌸

a letter he received from fellow BIL Bob Broyles of Carlisle, Pennsylvania.

You'll notice this issue includes extra pages to make room for the annual P.E.O. Bed and Breakfast listing, beginning on page 27. Remember, the most updated B&B information can always be found on P.E.O. website peointernational.org on the members' side under "Reference Listings."

The Bed and Breakfast program is successful for the money it generates for P.E.O. philanthropies and for the connections it creates between P.E.O. sisters. See page 10 for an article by P.E.O. Nancy Kline who, along with her BIL, stayed in 12 P.E.O. B&Bs on a road trip across America. She shares stories of their journey and the unique experiences they had in different areas of the country; she also offers good advice on trip planning and how to be a considerate guest.

By the time you receive this issue of The P.E.O. Record, we'll have wrapped up the 71st Convention of International Chapter in Dallas, Texas. Look for a complete convention report in the November-December 2013 issue of The Record. In the meantime, you can visit convention.peointernational.org/2013 to find my daily blog and other convention updates.

A BIL Talks Personally About P.E.O.

Bob Broyles, husband of Sally Broyles, Chapter CG, Carlisle, Pennsylvania, was kind enough to share some perspectives on P.E.O. and being a BIL:

P.E.O. has had a positive influence on my life in more ways than I am actually able to quantify.

My mother was a P.E.O., but as a youngster, and a male, I knew nothing about it. It wasn't until I married Sally, and Mother told her about P.E.O., that I learned of it at all. But Mom was proud of it and it got Sally's attention. My military career, however, kept us from being in any place long enough for pursuit of that potential. When we retired that all changed. We were hardly settled in our new home when a friend, a member, mentioned it to Sally. Bingo! The next thing I knew I was a BIL, carefully instructed not to say "Bill," and still totally in the dark, of course, about what "P.E.O." meant. The impact of P.E.O. has been impressive as Sally has become actively involved in her Chapter CG in Pennsylvania. She has served as chapter treasurer and chair of two committees. I have been caught up in their activities, even ran a fun "BIL initiation ceremony" recently, and have been very impressed with the sisters' dedication and involvement.

Sally is very happy with her involvement with Chapter CG—and that works for me! I don't know about other chapters, but members of Chapter CG decided that the BILs should have name tags similar to theirs for chapter social occasions. This is a much nicer treatment than ordinary paper tags.

The chapter's BILs are occasionally active separately: when the chapter has a breakfast scheduled, we sometimes have one as well. We recently had a BIL tour of a local brewery. And of course, we join the ladies for social occasions a few times a year, proudly wearing our special name tags. At one of these social events we played a musical memory game put on by a group we formed called "the BIL-ious Baritones!"

I have come to appreciate P.E.O. as more than just a social activity; it is a true service organization and my wife and her P.E.O. sisters pursue their chapter's goals and objectives with dedication and enthusiasm. I support their efforts by assisting in writing scholarship recommendation letters and in the form of happy flunky labor at their yard sales.

Perhaps the highlight of having a wife who is a P.E.O. is being a part of "Women Helping Women Reach for the Stars" as something I never knew I would have a chance to be involved in. I am more than happy to follow and support my wife's example—she as a dedicated P.E.O. and I as a BIL. 🌸

Sincerely,
Bob Broyles

Corkhill Williams

P.E.O. Bed & Breakfasts Across the USA

by Nancy Kline, AA, Medford, Oregon

My husband Dusty and I have stayed in many P.E.O. bed and breakfasts in the 16 years we have been married. We have met lots of wonderful P.E.O.s and BILs, some of whom we have seen since.

Our first trip to Pullman, Washington, was so successful that later when we flew to the East Coast we stayed with a couple on Cape Cod. In Maine we stayed in a house right on the ocean where we could walk on the sand flats at low tide. We drove up the Maine coast where our hostess was so nice we returned to stay with her again. In Rye, New Hampshire, a BIL gave us a wonderful historic tour of the town.

8 Weeks, 10,000 Miles, 12 B&Bs

This past autumn we really branched out when we drove across the country, staying in P.E.O. B&Bs along the way. I started by planning how far we wanted to drive each day, what we wanted to see and whether we wanted to stay more than one night. We are golfers so I allowed time for a few games along the way. We also had friends and relatives we wished to see and a mid-trip destination of the family cabin in Vermont for three weeks.

Our first stop was in Boise, then Idaho Falls where we walked along the beautiful falls, enjoying the sun and the exercise.

The next day was a long one with lots to see: Jackson Hole and the Tetons, Yellowstone Park, the Snake River and interesting rock formations. In Cody, two hours in the museum was not nearly enough so we returned in the morning after a delicious breakfast with our hostess.

Our next B&B stop was in Lead, South Dakota, way out in the woods in a lovely home built by our hosts a few years prior. We played golf with our hostess the next morning, before heading to the Mount Rushmore area for two days.

A B&B in Northfield, Minnesota, was our next P.E.O. experience and it was fascinating. The BIL hunts all over the world and their house holds more than 80 magnificent animals, beautifully posed on ledges and in natural settings.

After a visit to friends, we crossed Lake Michigan on the ferry. We drove for an hour and then veered off onto a dirt road, following a waddling porcupine in the dark to the B&B home. Our hosts awaited us on their porch with open arms. We talked for two hours, and then in the morning continued talking while enjoying breakfast together.

New York State near Niagara Falls was next. We spent the night with a lovely couple and, following their suggestion, walked to a wonderful ice cream shop nearby.

Our last P.E.O. stop heading east was in upstate New York. How nice to find our hosts on the porch of their charming converted summer cabin ready to wave us down! We walked a block to the lake, enjoying the warm sun, and then the four of us went out for dinner to a lakeside restaurant. We hated to leave the next morning, but were anxious to get to our family cabin and unpack for a three-week stay of golf and "leaf peeping."

When the time came, we headed south to my brother's house in Pennsylvania, where he and his wife Jane provided us a "free P.E.O. B&B," as she is in a chapter there.

From there we visited Williamsburg for three nights, long enough to spend time with my grandson in college and get a special tour of the old town, where our BIL host is a volunteer.

When planning our trip, I contacted a P.E.O. hostess in Navarre, Florida. They were going to be out of town, but she graciously sent us information about a motel on the water, restaurants, interesting drives, and golf courses along with phone numbers.

In Lafayette, Louisiana, our hosts gave us a tour of their beautiful garden and then drove us to a restaurant where we enjoyed true Cajun food and music.

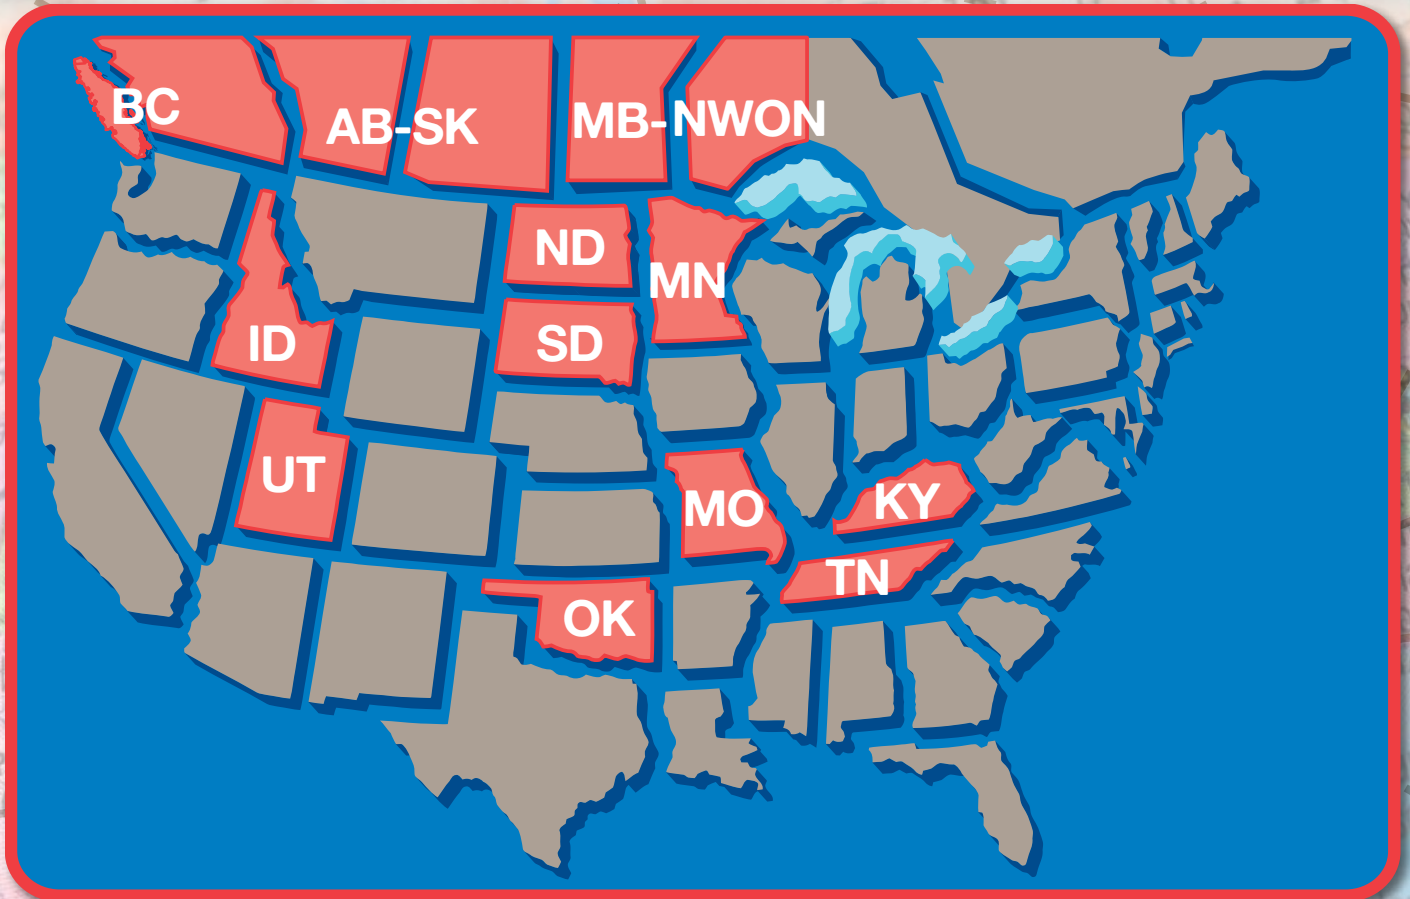

In Fredericksburg, Texas, we stayed in a B&B out of town on a ranch. We loved the peace and quiet after having spent the day at a fascinating WWII museum and walking through the small, charming old German town.

This was our last P.E.O. stop of this trip, but certainly not our last P.E.O. B&B! I would urge every P.E.O. to take advantage of the P.E.O. B&B program—it's the perfect way to save money while helping support our philanthropies. 🌸

Nancy Kline's Tips for Staying in P.E.O. B&Bs

1. Start planning your trip at least a month in advance, because P.E.O. B&Bs are becoming more popular and no one wants to be a burden on an overworked hostess. Since our trip was so extensive, I needed almost two months to get the reservations set up.
2. Make a tentative overall plan of how many days you will spend in each spot. Ask your hostess for ideas of what to do while in town: museums, parks, historic sites, etc. We could have spent another day in two unexpected gems: Cody, Wyoming and Fredericksburg, Texas, both of which have fascinating museums and other interesting sights.
3. Email or call to reconfirm at least a month in advance and then follow up a few days before arriving.
4. Get complete directions—and correct spellings—and try programming the address into your GPS before you leave home. Just one wrong letter or number may cause the GPS to reject the address. And take a "paper map" just in case! We hit a detour over a river with no signs on how to go around to reach our destination. The paper map saved us.
5. Call the hostess en route to give her an estimated time of arrival. Be sure to get her cell phone number as well as her home phone.
6. Gifts are not necessary, but I enjoyed ordering small ones from The Record, again a way to support P.E.O. projects.
7. Let your hostess know ahead of time about any dietary restrictions or breakfast wishes. We tried to keep it simple for her sake as well as ours.
8. Write or email a thank you so your hostess will know how much you appreciated her hospitality and how your next few days turned out.

Pam Conlin
Alberta-Saskatchewan
WPEO - The Star

Pam Conlin often refers to herself as a P.E.O. postcard. She's a Cottey graduate ('97) an ELF recipient, a PCE recipient, and she has been a member since 1996. Her mother and sister are also P.E.O.s. Pam says, "P.E.O. has always been in my life, so it was natural to want to be involved; and once involved, it was easy to become passionate about it."

Pam lives in Calgary, Alberta, with her husband Scott and her two-year-old son Simon. Simon is a BIL in training, having attended a number of organizer visits during his first year of life. "I often wondered who the chapters were more excited to see!" Pam jokes.

When she is not busy with P.E.O. or taking care of Simon, Pam reads, travels, spends time with family and friends and is teaching herself to make baby blankets.

Pam is taking a break from her broadcasting career to be with Simon, but does work part-time for Target Canada. She has also helped with Girl Guides Canada, although P.E.O. has been her main focus for a number of years.

Nancy Smith
British Columbia
In the Arms of Sisters

Nancy Smith grew up in Benzonia, a small village in northwestern Michigan. She was the second of three sisters. Nancy received a B.A. from Carleton College, Northfield, Minnesota, majoring in English. While there she met Clyde, a classmate and geology major, and they were married the summer after graduation.

Clyde's work as an exploration geologist has taken him all over the world and they have lived in Mazatlan, Mexico and Henderson, Nevada. Clyde worked in the Yukon for many summers, and Nancy sometimes joined him with their young family. Their most unusual experience was living in a tent for a year and a half with three small children while building a house on Galiano Island, British Columbia.

Nancy was initiated as a charter member of Chapter BD, Tsawwassen, British Columbia, in 1984. Her sister Susan Vigland and mother Muriel Trapp Cross were charter members of Chapter EK, Frankfort, Michigan. Her sister Barbara Edwards later joined Chapter EK.

Nancy audited painting classes for three years at the University of British Columbia, and had three exhibitions of her paintings. She enjoys quilting, classical music, opera and theater. She and Clyde now own the house where she was born and return in the summers.

Nancy and Clyde have three wonderful children—David, Erin and Andrew, whose professions are in geology, graphic art and environmental science. Their six grandchildren are, of course, exceptional!

Stephanie was initiated into Chapter AI, Bristol, in 1999. Although she never transferred to a New Jersey chapter while in law school, Stephanie received continual support from her sisters in Chapter AI throughout her journey toward a law degree. P.E.O. also supported Stephanie's scholastic efforts financially, as she was the recipient of an ELF loan. Upon returning to Tennessee after graduation, Stephanie was welcomed back by her Chapter AI sisters and immediately found herself serving as ELF chairman.

Stephanie was initiated as a first generation P.E.O., but enjoys being a P.E.O. sister to her brother's wife, Amy Lippo, and Amy's mother, Sue Dietz, who blessed Stephanie by sponsoring her for membership. Stephanie recently had the pleasure of sponsoring and initiating her own mother, Jane Lippo, into Chapter AI. Performing the president's part of her mother's initiation ceremony is one of the highlights of Stephanie's P.E.O. membership. 🌸

Dear P.E.O. Sisters—Thank You!

by Cathy Allen, Educational Loan Fund Board of Trustees

Women who need additional funds to complete their education are grateful that P.E.O.s have taken the time to talk to them about the opportunity to apply for a loan of up to $12,000 ($20,000 for doctoral degrees) at 3 percent interest from the P.E.O. Educational Loan Fund (ELF).

Following are a few highlights from the application letters of some prospective loan recipients. In addition to their expressions of thanks, these women share interesting perspectives on the reasons they applied for an ELF loan.

Dear P.E.O. Sisters,

"I was certain that the government subsidized loans I would be offered would be enough to pay for the program, but the government has stopped subsidizing loans for graduate students beginning this year. That news led me to apply for the ELF Loan. I am so thankful for this opportunity to apply for this loan."

— Master's, licensed clinical social work

"The P.E.O. ELF loan would help greatly in minimizing the amount of debt I accumulate while still in school and unable to make payments. Thank you very much for your consideration of my application."

— Doctorate, veterinary medicine

"As a fellow P.E.O. and Ways and Means chair for my chapter, I fully comprehend the import of such a loan and how these funds are raised. I would use it as it is intended, as well as repay the funds within the time allotted so as to maintain the coffers for other women pursuing educational goals."

— Doctorate, English

"I am taking out educational loans and would be very grateful to receive the P.E.O. loan for my second year of my graduate program. This would help to decrease my long-term debt with the interest rate of the P.E.O. loan being half of the government loan (3 percent vs. 6.55 percent). Thank you for your consideration."

— Master's, speech pathology

"I want to be able to balance work and school without worrying about having to work a lot of hours in order to pay for my schooling. If I am chosen as a recipient of this loan, it will be a great asset to my continuing education and an incredible blessing."

— Undergraduate student hoping to become a physician's assistant

"I intend to complete my master's degree in two years and then find a job as the librarian of a small, specialized museum collection. With the generous help of P.E.O. International and the P.E.O. Educational Loan Fund, I will be able to afford the cost of the degree and achieve my goals."

— Master's, library science (2014)

"I would much rather pay interest to P.E.O. than Sallie Mae. I have known about P.E.O.'s work through my grandmother's involvement. I love the idea of gaining some financial support at this time, but paying it back and allowing another to receive an education in the future."

— Master of Public Health, epidemiology (2013)

Thank you for helping me receive an ELF Loan.

Generosity of P.E.O. sisters keeps ELF strong. From 1907 to today, chapters in every state, province and district have sponsored loan applicants. The majority of our sisterhood's chapters donate to the P.E.O. Educational Loan Fund. Whether the money is given by an individual or is the result of a chapter's fundraising events, the impact of the donation is momentous: it helps a woman achieve her educational goals.

When you successfully sponsor an applicant, a student receives the love and gifts of P.E.O. sisters everywhere. For information about sponsoring an applicant for our 3 percent simple interest loan, refer to the "P.E.O. Educational Loan Fund—Policies Governing Loans" information found on the website: peointernational.org.

During the 2011-2013 biennium, 1,205 women received loans totaling $13,914,200 from the P.E.O. Educational Loan Fund. 🌸

A Message from the Cottey President

by Judy Rogers, Ph.D., President, Cottey College

If there were an impressive college-bound student sitting across from me, what would I tell her about Cottey to capture her interest in attending? This is the question we posed to our marketing firm, George Dehne and Associates. The firm discovered the answer by interviewing 200 college-bound girls who shared characteristics with Cottey students. The answer forms the basis for a conversation that any of us might have with a prospective student or her family. Here are the five most important messages that we need to communicate about Cottey.

Message One: Leadership is the foundation of your success.

Seventy-five percent of those interviewed agreed that leadership skills were either "extremely important" or "very important" to their future career, no matter what their field of choice. With this in mind the conversation can easily turn to the many leadership opportunities Cottey offers in the Leadership, Experiences, Opportunity (LEO) program, in clubs and organizations, in the classroom, and in the Institute for Women's Leadership and Social Responsibility. Prospective students are especially interested in leadership experiences in their majors.

Message Two: Cottey guarantees experiences such as an international trip with airfare and hotel cost covered, suite-style living, and a global perspective. In fact, overseas travel would "greatly increase" the interest of 38 percent and "increase the interest" of another 36 percent of those interviewed. Therefore, sharing information about the international trip alone would capture the interest of 74 percent of students. Sharing this information is a good way to start a conversation about Cottey.

Message Three: Cottey recognizes and values learning wherever it takes place.

Cottey faculty and staff recognize that learning takes place inside and outside the classroom, and they structure the Cottey experience to provide both. Again, students have a strong interest in their major to prepare them for a career, and so they value experiences related to their majors.

Message Four: Cottey serves the ambitious, aspiring woman. Those surveyed felt that they were different from other girls in their schools because they worked harder, cared more about learning, liked to be different from the crowd and were open-minded and tolerant. They want a college that will help them reach their potential. They valued an emphasis on ethical behavior and social responsibility.

Message Five: Taken together, the features of the Cottey academic environment suggest an open and effective learning experience. Much of this opinion is based on having a faculty who want every student to succeed and who challenge, but also support, every student. It is important to students that, at Cottey, students' opinions count.

Having these five messages in my arsenal of Cottey information helps me decide what to discuss with potential students. I hope it will be useful to you as well as we all work to introduce Cottey to prospective students. 🌸

Defying the Odds for a Yao Girl

By Linda Spence, Chairman, International Peace Scholarship Board of Trustees

Defying the odds is something IPS recipient Ambumulire Phiri has done well. Born into the Yao tribe in Malawi, where most girls drop out before high school, Ambumu is nearing completion of her Ph.D. in special education from the University of Missouri in Saint Louis.

Her father died when she was 16 nearly shattering her dream of being a teacher. Her widowed mother worked hard to support her, and Ambumu made quilted baby blankets to help pay for college expenses. After graduation she taught second grade and excelled at helping struggling students experience success. Frustration at being unable to identify learning problems and help children reach their full potential cultivated her interest in special education.

After completing a master's degree in teaching she became a lecturer at the University of Malawi and, in 2003, a lecturer in education and teaching studies at Mzuzu University in Malawi. For eight years she taught pre-service teachers, instilling passion for girls' education and students with special needs.

Ambumu's joy in literacy development activities, curriculum design and research led to active participation in outreach activities with her university, the International Association of Special Education and UNICEF-funded early childhood education projects.

After eight years of service to her country, improving her skills became important. She decided to study in the United States because no university in southern Africa offered doctoral studies in special education. This came at great personal cost since she left her supportive husband and then 16-month-old son in Malawi.

Ambumu said, "I took this challenge because the next level of academic qualifications I will possess will grant me an opportunity to become a positive role model and a leader in a land where there are few women leaders of substance. I believe that

"Because I have been given opportunities to live beyond societal expectations of girls from the Yao tribe I would like to give back to my community in kind."

my credentials will offer me an influential platform to become a voice for those silently excluded in the education system and the development process because of their disabilities... Because I have been given opportunities to live beyond societal expectations of girls from the Yao tribe I would like to give back to my community in kind."

Last summer Ambumu worked with a research team using educational software on the iPad to improve communication for moderate to severely disabled children with limited speech. She is also working on a team to provide necessary skills for youth to facilitate participation in competitive employment, a project she hopes to replicate in Malawi. Her doctoral research focuses on interventions for supporting young men and women with Autism Spectrum Disorders.

In 2012 Ambumu received the prestigious Trailblazer Award for outstanding contributions to her university and her field. When she graduates, she will help to equip 200 teachers who graduate each year from Mzuzu University to impact children throughout Malawi.

Her days begin at 5:00 a.m. and end at 11:30 p.m. after she speaks via Skype with her husband and young son as they wake up. She plans to complete her Ph.D. and return to Malawi before her son's fifth birthday. With her determination, exceptional leadership abilities and never-ending willingness to serve others, she hopes to again defy the odds and bring significant improvement to her country. 🌸

by Teri S. Aitchison, Chairman, Program for Continuing Education Board of Trustees

“Why can’t P.E.O.s give money to women in our own country (e.g. United States and Canada) to help with their education just as we do to those who come here from other countries?” Though similar suggestions had come from other members of the Sisterhood, this question, posed at a meeting of Chapter AK, Pennsylvania, provided the catalyst that led to their presentation of a resolution to the Convention of Pennsylvania State Chapter in June 1970. The rest, as they say, is history.

Twenty biennia have passed since the delegates attending the 1973 Convention of Supreme Chapter in New Orleans, Louisiana, voted to adopt the P.E.O. Program for Continuing Education as the third Des Moines-based philanthropy. With an increased workforce competing for a reduced number of jobs, the need to complete an educational program that will improve or upgrade skills is impacting the lives of more women than ever before.

As we celebrate the first 40 years and begin the next decade in the history of the P.E.O. Program for Continuing Education, we say thank you, P.E.O., for helping more than 38,000 women in building their ladders to success. The completion of their educational goals has been made possible, in large part, by the grant awards and chapter support your membership has provided. It is humbling to hear that a PCE grant arrived at the perfect time, that it was just the right amount to avoid one more loan and that having the money made it easier to focus on those last classes. It is only through your generosity that PCE can continue to award grants to such deserving women.

During the early years of PCE, women returning to school were still a relatively new phenomenon; therefore a $500 maximum award coupled with a low number of applications meant that nearly every applicant received a full or partial grant. Today’s women are serving as the sole or primary wage earner in more than 40 percent of households with children under the age of 18, up from just 11 percent in 1960.* With a significantly larger number of applicants and a $3,000 maximum grant, it is fiscally impractical to think that every applicant can receive a full, or even partial grant award.

Since the beginning of the program, the highest priority applicant has been the woman who has a realistic, short-term goal which will allow her to support herself and/or her current/future family. Just as the cost of living has increased since the 1970s, fees associated with higher education have also risen significantly and PCE continues to be there to give that helping hand—that extra boost she needs to reach the top rung on her ladder to success.

The trustees are looking for those women with the highest probability of remaining in school until the completion of the degree for which the grant is awarded. Though PCE is need-based, financial planning, as indicated on the income and expense statement, must show that her goal is achievable. Your careful attention to detail during the interview process is the key to finding such women. Once you’ve confirmed that she meets all of the eligibility requirements for award consideration, introduce her to the trustees in your chapter’s recommendation letter by providing a clear and concise outline of the change in circumstances that make this degree necessary as well as her realistic prospects for employment or job advancement. We can hardly wait to meet her! Here’s to another 40 years and beyond of women helping women reach for the stars! 🌟

The P.E.O. Scholar Awards Board of Trustees is pleased to announce that six of the 85 Scholars for the 2013-2014 academic year have received the honor of being designated as Endowed Scholars. The Endowed Scholar program is made possible by the generous donations of individuals and chapters who establish endowment funds in the P.E.O. Foundation directly benefitting Scholar Awards. Each of these awards is in recognition of these Scholars' exceptional academic achievement and potential to make a difference in their field of study. All 85 Scholars received $15,000 awards.

"Supporting Women...Changing the World" is now the permanent theme for the P.E.O. Scholar Awards. These few words truly encompass the sense of what P.E.O. Scholar Awards represent.

The complete list of all 2013-2014 Scholars, with their biographies and photos, can be viewed on the Scholar Awards page on the P.E.O. International website at peointernational.org.

2013-2014 Endowed Scholars

Francesca Alvarez-Calderon

University of Colorado—Denver, Aurora, Colorado
Chapter HY, Parker, Colorado

Francesca Alvarez-Calderon is a summa cum laude and Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Florida International University with B.S. and M.S. degrees in chemistry. In college she worked in a research laboratory trying to understand the absorption of carotenoids into the skin and retina and how dietary interventions can change the composition of these to help reduce the risk of macular degeneration. She culminated her project with two peer-reviewed publications, a book chapter and several national presentations. Francesca is now pursuing a combined M.D./Ph.D. degree at the University of Colorado Anschutz Medical Campus in Aurora, Colorado. Her dissertation work is on developing therapies that take advantage of the abnormal metabolism present in cancer cells to better eliminate leukemia cells. Her work has been funded by a National Cancer Institute pre-doctoral fellowship. Francesca's goal is to become a physician/scientist in the area of pediatric oncology. She wants to focus on developing targeted therapies to treat childhood cancer, especially leukemia. Francesca has been named the Legacy Endowed Scholar for 2013-2014.

The Legacy Scholar Fund was established in 2001 by the Van Vlack Family in memory of their mother, Frances Van Vlack and grandmothers, Ruth Van Vlack and Laura Runnells who were all P.E.O. members. These women were committed to providing educational opportunities for women.

Tamara L. Carley
Vera G. Koefoot Endowed Scholar
Ph.D. in environmental engineering
Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tennessee
Chapter N, Nashville, Tennessee

Tamara Carley graduated summa cum laude and with honors in her course of study with a B.A. degree in environmental studies-geology from Whitman College. She is now a doctoral student in the field of environmental engineering at Vanderbilt University where she studies earth movement and volcanic eruptions. As a scientist with strong support from the National Science Foundation in the form of a Graduate Research Fellowship, Tamara has been able to build an active and highly involved team of national and international collaborators while conducting fieldwork in Montana, Arizona, Thailand, Bangladesh and Iceland. To create awareness and promote further study within the scientific community, she has also produced a considerable number of academic papers and conference abstracts about her findings. Tamara has a passion for mentoring and is currently working with several undergraduate geologists (primarily female) both at home and abroad. She hopes to inspire other female scientists by working in academia. Tamara has been named the Vera G. Koefoot Endowed Scholar for 2013-2014.

The Vera G. (Bobbie) Koefoot Endowed P.E.O. Scholar Award was established in 1988 with gifts from members of Bobbie's family in honor of her service on the executive board of International Chapter. When Bobbie died in 1990, Nebraska State Chapter contributed to the fund in her memory.

Jessica Moerman
Annabelle B. Bush Memorial Endowed Scholar
Ph.D. in earth and atmospheric sciences
Georgia Institute of Technology, Atlanta, Georgia
Chapter B, Atlanta, Georgia

Jessica Moerman is a summa cum laude graduate of the University of Tennessee-Chattanooga with B.S. degrees in geology and chemistry. She is a Ph.D. candidate at the Georgia Institute of Technology in earth and atmospheric sciences. Among her numerous awards and grants, Jessica received the National Science Foundation Graduate Research Fellowship. The title of her dissertation is "Reconstructing Past Changes in the El Niño Southern Oscillation (ENSO) from Northern Borneo Stalagmites." Her focus is paleoclimatology—the study of past climates. Specifically, her research uses cave stalagmites to discover how tropical precipitation varied over the past two millennia. Jessica's ultimate career goal is to teach at the university level and conduct further research. One of her recommenders commented, "She has a genuine concern for the environment and I expect her to make a significant impact on solving global environmental problems." Jessica is the Annabelle B. Bush Memorial Endowed Scholar.

The Annabelle B. Bush Memorial Endowed Scholar Fund was established in 2006 by members of the Bush family. Annabelle served P.E.O. as the president of California State Chapter in 1983 and was a very dedicated and committed member of P.E.O.

Jessica Shaw
Juanita M. Davis British Columbia Endowed Scholar
Ph.D. in geology
University of Victoria, Victoria, British Columbia
Chapter BG, Sidney, British Columbia

Jessica Shaw graduated cum laude from Humboldt State University with a B.Sc. degree in geology. She is continuing her studies in geology in the doctoral program at the University of Victoria, British Columbia. She is the recipient of the Outstanding Academic Performance Award in the geology department and the John Young Award for the outstanding senior thesis in the geology department. Jess became intrigued by large-scale plate tectonic and deformation processes as an undergraduate student and has already published several articles in her field. Her project focuses on the Variscan belt of the Iberian subcontinent where she studies plate tectonics processes. She is bringing a new understanding of mountain geometry and paleogeography that could aid in locating new deposits of valuable minerals, metal ore and hydrocarbons. Jess plans to seek a career in academia and to engage and interest others in the Earth sciences, through teaching and community outreach programs. Jess is the Juanita M. Davis British Columbia Endowed Scholar for 2013-2014.

The Juanita M. Davis Endowed P.E.O. Scholar Award was established in 2000 from a legacy from Juanita M. Davis. Juanita was a charter initiate of Chapter AC, British Columbia in 1953, and transferred to Chapter AJ, British Columbia in 1966. A 45-year member of P.E.O., she served as president of British Columbia Provincial Chapter from 1976 to 1977.

Noelle Stiles
Mary Louise Remy Endowed Scholar
Ph.D. in computation and neural systems
California Institute of Technology, Pasadena, California
Chapter QH, Arcadia, California

Noelle Stiles earned her B.S. degree in biophysics from the University of Southern California and is currently pursuing her Ph.D. in computation and neural systems (visual psychophysics) at the California Institute of Technology. She is the recipient of numerous honors and scholarships, including a Citation of Merit from the Association of Women in Science Educational Foundation, a National Science Foundation Graduate Research Fellowship and a National Institutes of Health Training Grant. Noelle was inspired to aid the blind while in high school, after observing a trial implantation of a medical device that restored the sight of the patient. Noelle is studying how sensory substitution use (in which an image is converted into sound patterns) is similar to and different from sight, and is working to understand the brain changes that occur with sensory substitution use. Noelle plans to pursue a career in academia where she can continue her research and mentor women in science. Noelle is the Mary Louise Remy Endowed Scholar for 2013-2014.

The Mary Louise Remy Endowed P.E.O. Scholar Award was the first endowed award and was established by California State Chapter in honor of Mary Louise Remy, who presided at the Convention of International Chapter in 1991, the year P.E.O. Scholar Awards was adopted as the fifth project of the P.E.O. Sisterhood.

Elizabeth E. Voigt
Ventura Neale Endowed Scholar
Ph.D. in mechanical engineering
Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University, Blacksburg, Virginia
Chapter AU, Blacksburg, Virginia

Elizabeth Voigt graduated summa cum laude with a B.S. degree in mechanical engineering from Kansas State University. She subsequently earned one M.S. degree in mechanical and process engineering from Technische Universität Darmstadt funded by a grant from the Fulbright U.S. Student Program and a second M.S. degree in mechanical engineering from Virginia Tech University where she is currently pursuing a Ph.D. in the same field. Her research focuses on the interaction of tumor cells with their environment to better understand tumor progression, with the ultimate goal of enabling more efficient and effective cancer treatment. Elizabeth's goal is the development of a novel bench-top tumor platform, or "engineered tumor," which can be tuned to recreate the tumor microenvironment specific to any type of cancer. Her co-advisor states that Elizabeth possesses "all the necessary attributes to become an exceptional researcher such as incredible intellect, research aptitude, and tireless dedication." Elizabeth is the Ventura Neale Endowed Scholar for 2013-2014.

This fund was established in 2003 from the Ventura Neale Trust. Ventura was initiated into Chapter AE, Wisconsin, and later joined chapters in New York, Michigan and finally Chapter M, Florida, where she remained a member until her death in April 2003.

2013 Recipients Shine New Light on Break-Through Research

by P.E.O. STAR Scholarship Board of Trustees

for Breast Cancer, a program that analyzes characteristics of needle aspirate breast tumor samples that can detect malignancy with 99.1 percent accuracy. She has now successfully expanded her research to the diagnosis of MLL Leukemia, an aggressive form of the disease, proving her diagnostic program can be extended to other types of cancer. Her project also won the Grand Award in Computer Science at the International Science and Engineering Fair.

In her STAR scholarship application essay, Brittany explained, "I taught the computer how to diagnose breast cancer. This service will help patients worldwide as it is adapted by more hospitals across the globe. The future implications of my research could cause breast cancer detection to become cheaper, quicker, and less invasive. I know this project can save lives."

Brittany has presented her research to President Obama at the White House and to CERN (the European Organization for Nuclear Research) in Switzerland. She was invited by Secretary of State Hillary Clinton to participate in the Equal Futures Partnership Launch at the 2012 UN General Assembly to expand women's political and economic participation globally and spoke with students from around the world about STEM participation at the U.S. State Department.

Brittany, a graduate of The Out-of-Door Academy in Sarasota, is attending Duke University to begin her work toward a M.D./Ph.D.

Chapter FT, Colorado Springs, Colorado, noted that their applicant, Sara Volz, kept her algae biofuel experiment under her loft bed because she didn't have access to a real lab for her research. For seven years Sara conducted independent research on optimizing algae biofuels with an artificial selection and nitrogen stress as methods to induce lipid synthesis.

This year she won first place in the Intel Science Talent Search and was invited to the White House to meet the President. She attended the White House Science Fair and met with the Secretary of the Navy for a Pentagon briefing on the Navy's algae biofuel work. She gave remarks to a congressional luncheon on Science Technology Engineering and Mathematics (STEMS) education.

Sara writes, "My algae biofuels work was entirely inspired by my own passion of biochemistry and alternative energy...I artificially selected populations of algae that produce unusually high amounts of oil, which could increase fuel yields. Studying an enzyme important to algae's oil metabolism let me identify a chemical that killed cells with low amounts of the enzyme, allowing me to isolate surviving cells with high oil production."

Sara, a graduate of Cheyenne Mountain High School, is a two-time first place winner in the energy & transportation category at the Intel International Science & Engineering Fair, a three-time Grand Award winner of Colorado Science/Engineering Fair and a Grand Award winner at the 2011 Hong Kong International Science Fair.

Sara is attending MIT; she will study biochemistry and molecular biology toward a Ph.D.

Each named as one of the nation's 25 most impressive graduating high school seniors this year by Business Insider, Brittany and Sara are now college freshmen. Might the Nobel Prize be on the future list of accomplishments for these two extraordinary STAR recipients? 🌟

Women's Philanthropy

by Barb Legge, Chairman, P.E.O. Foundation Board of Trustees

According to the Encarta Dictionary, philanthropy is the desire to improve the material, social and spiritual welfare of humanity, especially through charitable activities.

Historically, when we talk about women's philanthropy, women gave of their time and talents. Women volunteered as Sunday school teachers and room moms, baked for bake sales, worked at shelters, etc. and provided millions of unpaid hours for the causes we supported. It was the men who gave the money. When making a decision about planned giving, if a woman were making that decision she would give their wealth to where her husband would have, because she felt her husband had earned the money.

Now, fast forward to the present; we are seeing a whole new trend of women in philanthropy. More and more women are working and have wealth of their own or they have taken over the family wealth through inheritance. As women acquire wealth and assume leadership roles they gain the ability for independent financial giving in addition to their service to others. We now see women giving not just their time and talent but they're giving their own monetary gifts as well. They want to make a difference.

We each have our own heritage of values, goals and experiences which form the basis of where we want our charitable dollars to go. We want to give our money to the causes that mean the most to us and that have given the most to us during our lives. We also want information on how that money will be managed, invested and most important, used. We are committed to organizations and institutions whose vision we share. Women's philanthropy in the future will play a significant role in shaping the world in which we will live.

P.E.O.s have a long history of philanthropic giving. Since our first project was established in 1907, we have shared with our P.E.O. sisters who came before us the joy and excitement of watching our International projects grow to the six we now support. We have heard thousands of stories of the achievements of the women who have benefited from the scholarships, loans and grants they have received from P.E.O. We take pride in their accomplishments and we know in our small way we have helped to change the world for the better by assisting women with their education.

We now stand at the threshold of a time when women's giving will make an even more significant difference in the lives of the women we can help. The power of women's giving is a growing trend that is being embraced throughout the United States, Canada and beyond. Women are pooling their resources to make a significant impact in supporting the causes they believe in. As P.E.O.s we know how this works—by supporting our International projects, we are pooling our money into helping many women obtain college loans or with grants, giving the opportunity for women to return to school when they need it most. We are helping outstanding high school senior girls attend college with scholarships and we are assisting women from other countries receive their college education. We provide an award that assists exceptional women obtain their advanced degrees and we own and support our college.

There is power in women's giving. When you are making the decision of where your annual year-end giving dollars will go, please remember P.E.O. When you are making planned giving decisions and thinking about the legacy you would like to leave, please remember P.E.O. You can make a difference. 🌸

Donations can be given directly to the P.E.O. project(s) of your choice or through the P.E.O. Foundation.

Information used in writing this article was taken from Forbes Online; Women's Philanthropy Board, Auburn University; and The Fund Raising School, IUPUI.

Elizabeth (Libby) Street, BF, Ellensburg, Washington, is co-author of a book for educators titled "Response to Intervention and Precision Teaching: Creating Synergy in the Classroom." The book recommends a marriage between Response to Intervention (RTI)—a framework for deciding when to intensify instruction—and Precision Teaching (PT)—a powerful technology for practicing elemental skills that are necessary for success in an area of study. It includes chapters about the RTI framework and the PT technology and tells how to blend the two. It also describes how a PT classroom works and provides details about its use in teaching reading, writing and mathematics as well as the content areas. The book ends with a discussion about how the PT practice technology assists students in building complex repertoires and provides the underpinnings for real-world competence as a learner.

Libby retired in June, 2012 and is now professor emerita in the Department of Psychology at Central Washington University in Ellensburg, Washington, where she served as a faculty member and administrator for 33 years. A board-certified behavior analyst, Libby has consulted to numerous programs that serve children diagnosed with autism spectrum disorders. Libby has served as a consultant and trainer for more than three decades at Morningside Academy in Seattle, Washington, where the PT technology that is described has been critical to the Academy's success in improving the academic skills and abilities of students who were not progressing commensurate with their age or grade level.

Born in Morgantown, West Virginia, Libby earned a bachelor's degree in math education and master's and doctoral degrees in educational psychology from West Virginia University. She is married to BIL Warren Street and together the couple has four children and six grandchildren. She has been a P.E.O. since 2003.

Morgan Grubola Vonberg, CH, Ann Arbor, Michigan, and Kay Polson Grubola, E, Louisville, Kentucky, collaborated on the book "Tiny Toes, A Creative Movement Class for Young Children." Morgan wrote and Kay designed and illustrated the book. For parents and teachers who want to instill a love of movement in children when they are very young, "Tiny Toes: A Creative Movement Class for Young Children" provides a step-by-step guide for building strength, agility and self-confidence in young bodies in a safe, structured way. The book is specifically designed for those teaching children ages 2–5 and focuses on teaching dance through the M.E.G. (Movement, Expression and Growth) technique.

"Tiny Toes" offers 19 different exercises designed to develop strength and flexibility, promote intellectual growth, and encourage performance skills in young students. The book, which includes a 21-track music CD, outlines instructional strategies for parents and teachers, as well as exercises focusing on stretches and axial and locomotor movement. Exciting stories about the make-believe world of the stage describe the dance steps and provide inspiration for the young dancer in every child.

Morgan, a professionally trained ballerina, developed the M.E.G. technique after years of study, dance, and her own teaching experiences.

"Tiny Toes" has won the prestigious Gold Medal IPPY Award from the Independent Book Publishers in the category of Children's Interactive Books and a bronze Moonbeam Metal from the Moonbeam Children's Book Awards.

Caryl Crozier, D, Minneapolis, Minnesota,

author and film producer, wrote "Waking to Mourning Doves," which begins with her childhood on a South Dakota prairie farm, lovingly recounting stories of the people who influenced and nurtured her to adulthood. She tells about the geographic area where she was raised and the family members and friends who made up her 1940s and 1950s rural community, the conditions and surroundings in which they lived, their work and leisure activities. The narrative continues with stories about Caryl's college education and her life as a mother and professional woman beginning at a time when women were expected to be full-time homemakers and continuing into the era of "supermoms" with household responsibilities as well as a career outside the home.

Caryl's writings about her mother's 70-year social club resulted in a play, "The Friendly Hour," produced in West Hollywood, then "Prairie Sonata," an award winning short film telling the story of friendship, love and loss in rural 1930s South Dakota. The film was shot on location with the support of the Beresford, South Dakota, community providing authentic props and costumes. A feature length film based on women's changing roles set in the 1950s in Southeastern South Dakota is in process.

Lo Anne Mayer, AC, Chatham, New Jersey, wrote "Celestial Conversations: Healing Relationships After Death." After the death of her 86-year-old mother, Lo Anne wished she could mend the relationship she had with her mother. During their lifelong adversarial relationship, the two of them had never intimately connected. The memory of the unfinished business left her feeling defeated, sad and angry.

Lo Anne first tried to heal her grief in conventional ways. She talked to counselors and attended support groups. Though wonderful, they weren't enough. She didn't find the solace she needed until she wrote a letter directly to her mother. To her surprise, she received a reply. So began seven years of intimate correspondences with her mother's soul, the connection Mayer had longed for her whole life.

In "Celestial Conversations: Healing Relationships After Death," Lo Anne tells the story of her mother's life and death and shares excerpts from the journals, which contain surprising and profound lessons on a number of topics from motherhood to forgiveness to karma.

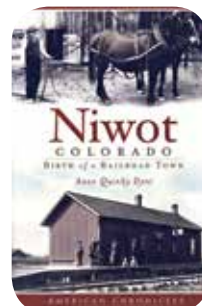

When her own adult daughter Cyndi died by her own hand in 2005, the painful separation sparked another set of transpersonal journals, this time between Lo Anne and her daughter.

Today Lo Anne runs Celestial Circles for groups who want to try the method. For those who prefer to try on their own, she has also written "Celestial Conversations: A Guided Journey." Lo Anne is a workshop presenter and former host of the television show "Angels at Work." She has studied various forms of healing for 30 years, including nutrition, charismatic healing, therapeutic touch, the mind-body connection and various forms of meditation. "Celestial Conversations" is her first book.

Anne Quinby Dyni, EY, Boulder, Colorado, has written "Niwot, Colorado: Birth of a Railroad Town." It is her fifth book on Boulder County history and is a compilation of selected local history columns she writes for a newspaper. Her 20 years of volunteer work for the county's Parks and Open Space Department led to her first book documenting the early agricultural history of Boulder County. She then undertook a history of the early school districts, which incorporated historic photos and oral history interviews with people who had attended those schools. As an oral history volunteer with Boulder's Carnegie Library for Local History, Anne frequently incorporates interviews into her writing and lectures.

Barbara Tourville Steinmetz, IX, De Soto, Missouri, wrote "Hope," an inspiring book about the experiences she and her family went through when her teenage son, Kirk, was diagnosed with cancer. Barb hopes her book will be helpful to other families as they face crises of their own. The book focuses on Barb's strong faith that pulled her family through this medical crisis.

Barb and her husband Steve enjoy rural life in De Soto, Missouri, where they operate their business and embrace empty nesting as new grandparents. 🌻

Regular Social Meetings

It is important to remember that a social meeting is a "regular" meeting (Constitution, Part III, ARTICLE III MEETINGS, Sec. 1, Sec. 3). A quorum is seven members for a regular business meeting as well as a regular social meeting. No business is conducted at a regular social meeting; however, this meeting is counted as one of 15 required meetings per the Constitution. The treasurer will provide a sign-in sheet for members to record their attendance (See President's Book, Appendix #6). The minutes will report the number present at the meeting (See Instructions – Recording Secretary's Record Book, page 4). Names of attendees are not transferred to the Roll Call book.

Reference Listings

In the members' side of the website click on Reference Listings to find listings previously in the CARE issue. Here you will find—Bed and Breakfast, Gatherings Away from Home, Honor Roll, Reciprocity & Group Contacts, S/P/D Chapter Conventions Schedule and TLC.

Payments for Chapter Fundraisers

P.E.O. chapters are classified as nonprofit entities, but are not considered charitable by the IRS. All donations to and payments for a chapter fundraiser must be issued directly to the chapter and are not eligible for a charitable deduction. Chapter members are not to make checks payable to any P.E.O. project or P.E.O. Foundation in connection with a fundraiser involving the exchange of goods or services.

Individual charitable donations may be made payable to one of the International Chapter projects or to P.E.O. Foundation and sent directly to the Executive Office or Cottey College. In order to receive proper tax documentation for a charitable deduction, a donor may not receive any goods or services in exchange for a contribution.
